EARTHQUAKES CLAIM LIVES OF HUNDREDS IN NORTHERN PERSIA

Series of Shocks Continues for Nine Days, Exact- ing Terrible Toll — Buildings Being Racked to Pieces, Hindering Search for Victims—Towns Are Destroyed and Panic Is Widespread

TEHERAN, Iran, April 23 (AP).—A series of earth shocks rocking Northern Iran (Persia) since April 12 continued tonight, after killing an undetermined number of persons and doing unestimated damage.

Reports from Mazandaran Province said 483 persons died in that division alone. Lack of communication facilities prevented any accurate survey of the devastated regions.

(Dispatches to Paris said 600 persons were reported killed and thousands injured in the Iran quakes, which destroyed the towns of Dodangueh, Tehadengueh and Lehard-Jarib and caused widespread panic.

BUILDINGS STILL FALLING
(The Paris) advices said the quakes, continuing, were impeding rescue efforts, racking buildings to pieces as rescuers penetrated them in search of victims.)

The Iran press reported the heaviest damage was done at Suleida, where many buildings were destroyed and most of the populace left homeless.

LOSSES HEAVY ON BOTH SIDES

Invasion of Bolivia Brought to Temporary Halt After Bitter Fighting

BUENOS AIRES, April 23 (AP).—A week of bitter fighting along the twelve-mile Chaco front, in which both Bolivia and Paraguay lost heavily, tonight saw Paraguay's invasion of Bolivia temporarily halted. Hurling nine regiments, numbering 8,000 men, into the Paraguayan zone, General Enrique Penaranda, Bolivian commander, threatened the enemy's communications and forced evacuation of Charagua, important Santa Cruz Province town which Paraguay captured on April 16.

FOR TACTICAL REASONS
Paraguay said Charagua had been abandoned for tactical reasons, and asserted its counter-offensive launched in the central sector about Boyuibe inflicted heavy losses on the Bolivian forces concentrated there. Charague, despite its communication facilities and strategic advantages, was abandoned to shorten the battle-line and permit concentration of effective at Boyuibe to resist the Bolivian drive, the War Ministry at Asuncion announced. The central sector has been the scene of the fiercest fighting since the Bolivian offensive got under way on April 17.

RELIEF AGENCIES TAXED TO LIMIT

Water Sorely Needed in One Part of Formosa—Others Threatened by Floods

TAIHOKU, Formosa, April 23 (AP).—Agencies of mercy were taxed to the limit today in rushing supplies of food, water and medical necessities to the distant sections of the island where survivors of Sunday's tragic earthquake were in sore need.

While the scarcity of water in one part of the island lent terror to the populace, people in another section were imperiled by flood possibilities. Tropical heat brought suffering to many whose homes were destroyed in the series of shocks which cost at least 3,152 lives and left more than 10,000 injured.

Mrs. Gertrude Dionne presented her husband with a seven-pound boy and a baby girl weighing six and one-half pounds, and both mother and babies are doing nicely.

PLAN STRONG ASSOCIATION

Teaching Would Be Barred to Non-Members of New Federation

If members of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation have their way, teaching in the Province will be impossible for those who are not members of the organization. Delegates at the annual convention here yesterday morning considered a draft bill of the proposed "Teachers' Association Act, 1935."

The proposed bill provides that all persons employed as teachers in schools organized under the Public Schools Act shall, as a condition of their employment, be members of the association. Those also eligible for membership shall be Normal School instructors, members of the faculty of the University of British Columbia and its affiliated colleges, unemployed teachers and teachers in training.

THE OBJECTIVES
Objects of the association will be to promote the cause of education in the Province, to raise the status of the teaching profession, to promote and safeguard interests of teachers, and to secure conditions which will make possible the best professional service, to influence public opinion regarding educational problems, to secure for teachers a greater influence in educational affairs, to afford advice.

TAX RECEIPTS GAIN STEADILY

Collections to Date Equal to Those Up to June 14 of Last Year

Prepayment of city taxes has reached a new peak. Collections now total $424,806, and will earn for the depositors $14,326 in interest, which will be applied to the lowering of their tax bills.

Compared with last year's figure for the same period, this is an increase of $64,923, the receipts last year being $359,885. The city is nearly two months ahead in its collection of taxes under the prepaid scheme, the amount collected so far in 1935 not having been collected until June 14 of last year.

Another indication of how popular this form of paying taxes has become is contained in the figures for previous years. This year's total so far surpasses the entire collections for the years 1922, 1923 and 1924, respectively, and is equal to the collection made in the year 1925.

Finds Tomahawk Dropped by Brave Of Chief Pontiac

FORT ERIE, Ont., April 23 (CP).—While digging in his garden at Erie Beach, Frank Walker found a stone Indian tomahawk in perfect state of preservation. It is believed it was dropped by one of the Indian braves under Chief Pontiac who helped build old Fort Erie when Col. John Montross founded it more than 150 years ago.

Man Helps Robins to Build Nest

FORT ERIE, Ont., April 23 (CP).—After eighteen days of trying by themselves to build a nest on a two-inch ledge at the Canadian end of the Peace Bridge here, two robins today completed nearly three-quarters of the work after friendly officials tacked up an extension to the ledge.

They had collected nearly a bushel of material which was blown off the ledge as fast as they dropped it. With the encouragement of the extension, they got the bright idea today of using clay to hold the material together and work went swiftly ahead on the material they had collected in their early struggles.

WAR MACHINE IS AIM OF GENERAL

Chiang Kai Shek Orders Military Training for High School and College Students

NANKING, China, April 23 (AP).—All male high school and college students were ordered today to undergo at least a year's period of intense military training. Chiang Kai Shek, generalissimo of the Nationalist Government's armies, issued the order as part of a programme designed to construct a modern, efficient war machine. At the expiration of a decade, the general expects that China will have become a first rate military power able to cope with any situation. He seeks 100,000 trained reservists each year.

Victoria Quintette Plays Great Ball in Trimming Eastern Basketball Champions in First of Series for Canadian Title, 47-22—Art Chapman in Great Display GENERATED by the two Chapmans, Chuck and Art, two of the finest ball handlers on Canadian soil, Victoria Blue Ribbons headed for their second Dominion men's senior basketball championship in the past three seasons, last night, at the Willows, when they trounced Coach Father McGee's famous Assumption College, Eastern titleholders, in the first of a three-out-of-five-game series for the Canadian crown, by a 47 to 22 score, before a wildly cheering crowd.

The same two quintettes will step on the same court tomorrow evening to continue the series, and again on Saturday night. If fourth and fifth games are necessary they will be played next Monday and Tuesday. Survivors of the series will take over the title relinquished by the Vancouver Province squad this season.

Urged on by Art Chapman, peer of the tip-off positions, who gave one of the finest scoring exhibitions of his career, and some brilliant defensive work by his brother, Chuck, skipper of the squad, the Ribbons speeded their way through the visitors' rearguard in sensational style. Art finished the evening in great fashion and topped the scorers with twenty-three points, eleven field goals and one convert from the foul strip. He performed a double triumph, for at the same time he held the muck-talked-of Bill "Moose" Rogin, Assumption jump expert, scoreless from the floor. The only points Rogin got were from the foul area and Chapman could not very well stop him from that position.

TAKING NO ADVICE
Hitler is doing without benefit of advice from the Berlin bureaucracy. General Joachim von Ribbentrop, his arms expert and close adviser, is here. Advice from Munich first said Hitler conferred with Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath there. Later this was denied, the Propaganda Ministry declaring Hitler has not left Berchtesgaden since Friday.

Admitting they were conjecturing, Nazi officials here expressed the opinion that Hitler, instead of following up his brief protest note with more detailed criticism of the Geneva action, now will wait until the whole nation is listening to him as he delivers his address on May 1, national Labor Day.

EDMONTON, April 23 (CP).—Winding up one of the longest sessions in years, the Alberta Legislature was prorogued at 6:15 p.m. today by Hon. Horace Harvey, administrator, in the absence of Hon. W. L. DISORDERS IN VANCOUVER END WHEN RIOT ACT READ

Stolen Silver Is Recovered Just Across the Street

WELLINGTON, Ont., April 23 (CP).—Police today recovered $750 of the $1,200 in silver stolen from the Bank of Nova Scotia here a month ago and announced they expect to make an arrest soon. The money, in nickels, dimes, quarters and United States silver, was found in the basement of an old unused bank across the street from the building that was robbed.

Two Thousand Striking Relief Camp Workers Parade Through Vancouver, Disrupting Traffic and Alarming Merchants — Extensive Damage Done in Clash With Police in Store

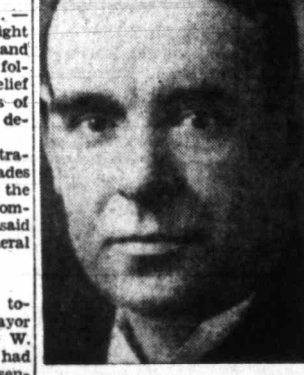

Many Receive Minor Hurts And Twelve Are Arrested

By CHARLES EDWARDS Canadian Press Staff Writer.

VANCOUVER, April 24.—At an early hour this morning about a thousand relief camp strikers who caused disturbances in the city yesterday were gathered at Hastings and Carroll Streets and all police reserves were on hand. A few encounters between police and strikers were reported and a number of additional arrests were made. Two men were taken to hospital with gasps in the head. Quiet was restored within a half hour and the gathering dispersed.

Disorders in South Tyrol Are Serious

VIENNA, April 23 (AP).—Reports of serious guerrilla warfare between police and German-speaking inhabitants of the Southern Tyrol region (ceded to Italy after the war) reached here today.

Acts of terrorism, countered with mass arrests, were reported to be speeding events to a sharp crisis. Germany's success in the Saar Basin plebiscite, combined with a renewed flood of anti-Italian propaganda, were reported as prompting widespread flare-ups of violence, news of which was said to be rigorously suppressed by Italian censorship.

ENTIRE BLOCK IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

SILVERTON, Ore., April 23 (AP).—The most devastating fire here since 1875 broke out in the rear of a billiard parlor this morning and destroyed an entire business block in the centre of the city. Twelve business houses, including a motion picture theatre and a number of frame and brick structures, were destroyed at an estimated loss of $100,000.

World Quotations Mounting Closer to Government's Standing Offer for Silver Newly Mined at Home—May Close Legal Loophole

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP).—Expectation of a quick boost in the United States treasury's silver price today was added to swirls of speculation over possible administration action to close the weak spot left in the Roosevelt monetary system by the Supreme Court gold ruling.

RISE IN LONDON
With the Treasury buying silver offered from the mines at 71c an ounce, a figure established barely a fortnight ago, the price of the metal rose in London to a point, which, translated into dollars at the current rate of exchange, was 70.75c. Gold discussion was reopened when the Government asked a

CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE
VANCOUVER, April 23.—Two thousand relief camp workers paraded through Vancouver's business section today, disrupting traffic; clashed with police in a large departmental store with extensive damage to store fixtures, and finally dispersed after the Riot Act had been read in this city for the first time since 1912.

Victory Square, scene of the marchers' last stand, was quiet tonight as the men remained in the various billets they have occupied since they left camps throughout the province two weeks ago and congregated here in protest against alleged unsatisfactory and unfair camp conditions.

TWELVE MEN ARRESTED
Consequences of the disturbance were found in the city jail, where police held twelve men arrested during and after the parade; in the Hudson's Bay Company departmental store, where officials said damage to store fixtures, and finally merchandise would total more than $5,000; and among strikers and police, several of whom were injured, but not seriously.

The parade started as just another of the so-called "nuisance parades" held periodically by the unemployed since they left the camps of April 4. Spokesmen for the men stated they hoped to call attention to their position by means of these public demonstrations.

THREE INJURED IN GAS BLAST

Fuel Station Explodes and Burns at Seattle Aviation Field

SEATTLE, April 23 (AP).—Two Seattle aviators and a service station attendant were severely burned today, when a gasoline station exploded and burned at Boeing Field, county airport.

The blast, which wrapped the three men in flames and shot smoke and fire 100 feet into the air, was blamed on a spark from an electric gasoline pump short-circuiting igniting spilled gasoline.

The three men, none believed seriously injured, were: William Brandt, station attendant; Elliott Merrill, and Gil Cook, pilot.

ROLLS IN MUD PUDDLE
Brandt, who ran and rolled in a mud puddle to extinguish the blaze on his clothing, said he was servicing an airplane seventy-five feet away when the station gasoline pump broke and began pumping gasoline onto the floor.

He said he ran and shut off the pump, a motor spark ignited the gasoline and there was a shattering roar and flash of flame and smoke. Brandt was taken to a hospital.

Merrill and Cook, who had been standing nearby, were given emergency treatment at the field.

Professor Says Modern Society Going Down Hill

Dr. G. G. Sedgewick, of University of British Columbia, Tells Teachers They Must Acquire More Dignity and Value—Urges Them to Pay More Attention to Their Outward Appearance

MODERN society is anything but dynamic and is making rapid progress downhill, Dr. G. G. Sedgewick, of the University of British Columbia, told a mixed audience of 700 teachers and citizens at the Empress Hotel last evening. They were gathered to receive the city's official greetings to the 500 teachers attending the British Columbia Teachers' Federation annual convention here.

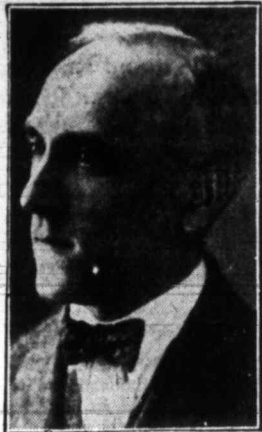

"The chief risk life runs in our democratic society is lack of a sufficient degree of dignity and value. Good taste, high standards of sensitivity, the capacity to distinguish between the shoddy and the sound do not get sufficient attention," he stated. "Popular education has not yet sunk in below the surface, and there is a thinness of culture with low standards of taste. Human life must acquire more dignity and value by the cultivation of the arts."

"There must be formation and establishment of sound impulses behind thinking, for it is the impulse behind the thought that makes education good," he asserted.

HIDEOUS SCHOOLS
"One thing that I missed in my education was beautiful surroundings. Here and there we have a school which is not too far below the level of the homes to which the pupils are accustomed. Some schools are hideously ugly. Somehow we have got it in our heads that beauty and dignity are things to be plastered on from the outside," said Dr. Sedgewick.

"A beautiful building need not cost a penny more than an ugly one, but somehow we have separated the ideas of beauty and utility. Some of our antique and modern furniture is hideous. In furniture turned out in the days of Queen Elizabeth and Chaucer, on the contrary, we often find beauty and utility together. When the depression lifts, which I hope will be soon, we must start to pay more attention to school buildings and furnishings," he added.

"Take the matter of clothes

DR. G. G. SEDGEWICK

Pupils sometimes think because of our outward appearance that we teachers are inferior to their parents. But we know such is not the case. We must bear in mind, however, that even if the Lord looks upon the heart, man notices the outward appearance. We should pay more attention to our appearance with clothing adapted to the occasion, showing dignity and beauty, of good fabrics and in harmonious colors," Dr. Sedgewick stated.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS

"Another thing sadly lacking in the schools is the absence of any training in the household arts. We all would like to know about fabrics, how to tastefully arrange furniture and decorate our homes to carry out a harmonious motif. Why should we have to rely upon experts for this?"

Dr. Sedgewick closed by saying that although British Columbia had not the power of tradition like the Old Country, much could be accomplished in the schools toward shaping a better society.

Rev. E. F. Church offered an invocation. Alderman James Adam, on behalf of Mayor David Leeming, extended a hearty welcome to the teachers. William C. Moresby, K.C., on behalf of Victoria Board of School Trustees, hoped their deliberations would prove fruitful. He reminded the teachers they were in a position to exercise a potential influence over boys and girls in their care, and hoped particular attention would be paid to molding their characters.

CHANGES PLANNED

D. Chapman, chairman of British Columbia School Trustees' Association, referred to the cordial relations existing between trustees and teachers, and hoped they would continue. He forecast that teachers would take an important part in changes planned in the school curriculum. E. S. Towle, of the Nanaimo Parent-Teacher Association, wished the teachers every success at their convention.

A. Wilson, of Prince Rupert, on behalf of British Columbia Teachers' Federation, thanked all the speakers for their greetings and best wishes. He said that the children's future undoubtedly was safe in the hands of the federation, school boards and parent-teacher associations.

Conducted by Frank J. Sehl, the Arion Club rendered several selections. Mrs. W. H. Wilson contributed three vocal solos.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Local Odd Fellow Lodges Will Parade to City Temple Next Sunday Morning

In commemoration of the one hundred and sixteenth anniversary this week of the founding of their order, members of local Odd Fellow lodges will hold a church parade next Sunday, attending the morning service at the City Temple, North Park Street, at 11 o'clock. Rev. Dr. W. J. Thompson, pastor of the Temple, will deliver an appropriate message.

Members and sojourning brothers and sisters will attend at lodge headquarters, Douglas Street, on Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, for instruction from the marshal.

STARTED IN BALTIMORE

Established in the city of Baltimore, April 26, 1819, by Thomas Wilkey, a Britisher, the order has grown from the original five to a membership of more than three millions and has extended its active influence to three continents.

Millions know of its beneficent activities as a fraternity. It has assisted its members in time of sickness and distress; buried the dead; helped the widow and educated the orphan. In addition, it maintains seventy homes for aged and indigent members, taking care of nearly seven thousand inmates.

THE MEMBERSHIP

The membership is largely confined to English-speaking countries, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the United States, but there are quasi-independent lodges in Cuba, Mexico, Japan, Germany, Sweden, Denmark and Switzerland.

The Rebekah or ladies' auxiliaries who assist in the work of benevolence have a membership of more than a million.

As far as British Columbia is concerned, the membership is approximately twelve thousand, with this city having the honor of having established the first lodge in 1864. The year 1935 sees Victoria with three subordinate lodges, two Rebekah lodges and one lodge of the newly-organized Theta Rho Club, being a junior branch of the Rebekahs.

"The big thrill of the trip," Captain Musick declared as he stepped ashore, "was the fact that it was negotiated without a thrill."

"I think this flight has largely removed the element of chance in the trans-Pacific journey, although it is the longest commercial over-water flight ever attempted."

CREW TOOK TURNS

The crew took turns sleeping in the big bunk aboard the Clipper, and relieved each other at their separate tasks in flying and navigating the craft.

The twenty-one hours required on the return flight compared to the seventeen hours and forty-five minutes required for the hop to Honolulu last Wednesday. Both journeys were experimental flights preparatory to establishing regular passenger and transport air service over an 8,500-mile route between California and the Orient.

Couple Burned to Death in Crash

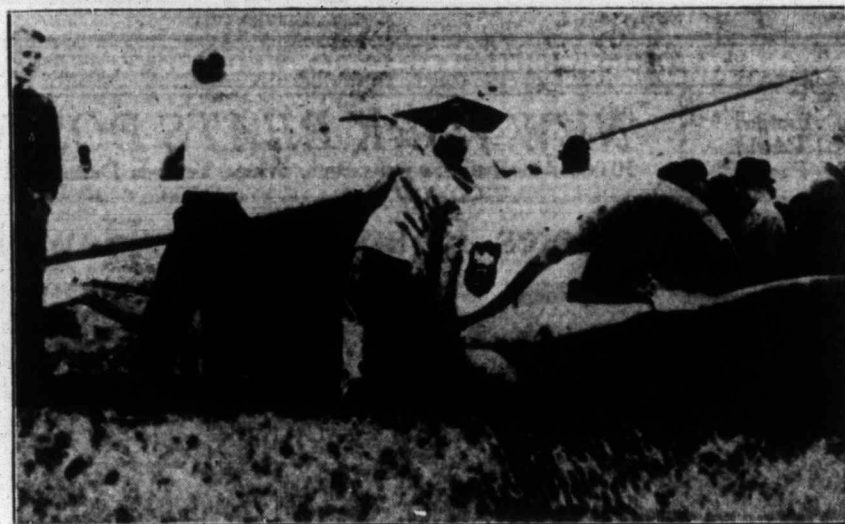

FORT HANCOCK, Tex., April 23 (AP)—A flying couple tentatively identified by officers as Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frederick Denkmann, of Casabel, Ariz., burned to death in a crash several miles east of Fort Hancock tonight.

Denkmann, twenty-five, and his wife took off from Tucson, Ariz., late today for El Paso, Tex.

A squad of fifty Provincial Police arrived and formed in line on Hastings Street at the foot of the square. They were joined by ninety city police and, within a few minutes, two truck loads of Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrived on the scene, followed by a mounted detachment of some thirty-five R.C.M.P. In all, about 250 police stood guard around the park.

INTERVIEW THE MAYOR
Twelve strikers were selected to proceed to the City Hall to interview the Mayor. There, they were told by Mr. McGeer that he had no power to give them food and shelter. He stated their case was strictly a Dominion responsibility. After the delegation left the City Hall, ten of their number were arrested and charged with vagrancy. Mr. McGeer went at once to the strations. Previous marches had been strictly orderly.

TRAFFIC IS HELD UP

The men marched down Water and Hastings streets today without unusual event. On Granville Street, traffic was tied up temporarily and for nearly an hour street cars were held stationary by the lines of marching men, extending for seven city blocks.

Men in certain divisions of the parade attempted to gain entrance to stores along the route, but found many doors barred against them. Employees of David Spencer, Ltd., large departmental store on Hastings Street, rushed to lock and guard all entrances when the marchers approached. The store escaped unscathed.

The Hudson's Bay Company, corner of Georgia and Granville streets, was not so fortunate. Some 700 marchers entered the main floor of the store before their following comrades were blocked by company employees and police, who locked the doors.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

Police reinforcements were rushed to the building and the strikers were ordered to leave. They jammed the aisles and, when they showed obstinacy, women employees of the company were hurried from the floor by their department managers.

As the officers attempted to eject the demonstrators, the men gathered in one corner, from which they could not be driven. Police were reported to have met some resistance as they attempted to talk the strikers out individually and batons were used. In the general melee which ensued, the men spread across the entire main floor, kicking in show cases, smashing perishable goods and throwing other articles to the floor. Reports stated clerks of the store showed no resistance, remaining out of the melee entirely.

POLICEMEN ARE INJURED

Some of the policemen suffered cuts and bruises and a half-dozen strikers were knocked out. The injured strikers were carried to the street by their fellows as the demonstrators struggled out by various exits.

Store officials surveyed the damage immediately afterwards and stated no estimate of the damage would be possible for some time, but they said it would run into thousands of dollars. Practically all glass show cases on the main floor were smashed, tables were overturned and the scene was one of general havoc.

Meanwhile, the strikers joined the main body outside and they marched four abreast down Granville Street to Hastings and thence four blocks east to Victory Square, site of the Cenotaph.

En route, a group of men broke ranks and swarmed about one of the police patrol automobiles which accompanied them to maintain order. Witnesses said an attempt was made to overturn the car in the sharp but short skirmish which followed. Police made light of the incident, declaring the men were driven back without trouble.

MARCH INTO SQUARE

At the square, the men divided into two sections, one group marching up Cambie Street and into the square from the south entrance as if under a prearranged plan. The other section paraded through the north entrance and, from above, it appeared the square was covered by a solid mass of men.

The strikers squatted on the turf while their leaders addressed them, reiterating their demands for food and shelter. The men were orderly, their only demonstration being loud shouts and cheers as they approved the speakers' words.

A squad of fifty Provincial Police arrived and formed in line on Hastings Street at the foot of the square. They were joined by ninety city police and, within a few minutes, two truck loads of Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrived on the scene, followed by a mounted detachment of some thirty-five R.C.M.P. In all, about 250 police stood guard around the park.

INTERVIEW THE MAYOR

Twelve strikers were selected to proceed to the City Hall to interview the Mayor. There, they were told by Mr. McGeer that he had no power to give them food and shelter. He stated their case was strictly a Dominion responsibility. After the delegation left the City Hall, ten of their number were arrested and charged with vagrancy. Mr. McGeer went at once to the square and, as he mounted the steps of the Cenotaph, the mob surged forward. The blue-coated city police, lined beside the Provincial officers, broke ranks at once and formed a cordon around the Mayor, forcing the strikers back and giving his Worship room to address them.

Mr. McGeer read the Riot Act, ordering the men to disperse within thirty minutes, and taking power to call out the militia if his orders were ignored. The Mayor's words were accepted in a stony silence.

NOT CLUBS BUT BULLETS

Harold E. Winch, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the Provincial Legislature for Vancouver East, spoke briefly to the men, advising them to disperse and saying the Riot Act did not "mean clubs but bullets." Almost at once, the men began to break up. By this time, the crowd of unemployed had dwindled to some 700 men.

Mr. Winch asked Mr. McGeer for permission for the men to march from the square to their billets, and his permission was granted. The demonstrators formed lines on the streets and, each division headed by two mounted policemen, they marched to their quarters.

Provincial and Mounted Police returned to their barracks as soon as the men had disappeared, but a large force of city police was kept on duty. No further trouble was anticipated, however.

The Riot Act was last read in Vancouver in 1912 during a disturbance among Orientals in Chinatown. The trouble ended there, but the city was called upon later to pay several thousand dollars in damage claims resulting from the disturbance.

Table tennis is a man's game, British critics are convinced. In the recent world championships here a single match between Haguenauer, the French champion, and Kohn, of Austria, lasted two hours and ten minutes before the Frenchman won in five sets. One rally alone lasted nineteen minutes. It was estimated the ball crossed the net 1,500 times.

A minister in a Scottish village was explaining why he never invited other ministers to preach in his pulpit. "If another man came and preached better than Ah do," he said, "ma folk would never listen to me again, and if he didn't preach better than Ah do, he wouldna be worth listening to."

TWO CHARGED WITH MURDER

Men Under Arrest Blamed by Jury for Death of Quebec Man

COATIQUE, Que., April 23 (CP).—A verdict holding Kenneth Brown, thirty, of Milton, Vt., and Lucien O. Morin, twenty-six, of Barnston, Que., criminally responsible for the death of Willis Keith Baldwin, seventy-eight, was returned today by a jury at a coroner's inquest. Murder warrants against the two men were then issued by Dr. Leonidas Bachand, district coroner. Brown is being detained at St. Albans, Vt., having refused to waive extradition formalities. Proceedings to have him returned for trial in connection with the killing of the veteran former Liberal member of the Canadian Parliament, will be taken by Hon. L. A. Taschereau of Quebec, in his capacity as Attorney-General.

PRINCIPAL WITNESS

The other accused, Morin, was principal witness, at the inquest. A shoemaker, known to his friends as "Red," Morin testified he and Brown had planned to rob Mr. Baldwin in his general store at Baldwin's Mills. The robbery itself was to be executed by Brown, Morin testified.

Correspondence was exchanged between the two, and three letters, addressed to Kenneth Brown in Milton, Vt., and signed by Morin, were produced as evidence. They referred to an alleged robbery plot against some person unnamed but "residing close" to Barnston. Morin stated in reply to a question that he had written the letters.

FROM A STAFF OF SEVEN TO SIX THOUSAND STRONG

From less than a corporal's guard to the equivalent of six regiments—this graphically illustrates the growth of the Bank of Montreal's staff in 117 years.

On the 23rd of August, 1817, the first four employees of the Bank of Montreal were appointed. They were the cashier, an accountant, a paying teller and a second teller. Shortly afterward a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper and a porter were added.

These seven constituted the original staff when the modest establishment on St. Paul Street in Montreal opened its doors on Monday, November 3rd—an establishment which was destined to play a conspicuous and beneficial part in the development of Canada's resources.

Throughout the many decades that have followed, the Bank of Montreal has made increasing effort to provide a banking service always adequate to meet the requirements of Canada's development.

The original staff of seven has grown to 6,300, loyally serving the public through 500 branches extending from sea to sea—and overseas.

EXTENSIVE AID WILL BE ASKED

Loans Between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 Sought by B.C. at Ottawa

Bound for Ottawa, where he will speak to requests for loans of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 for highway and relief purposes, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, left on the 2:15 p.m. boat yesterday for the mainland.

While at Ottawa Mr. Hart will take up with Federal authorities what disposition will be made this year in respect to relief undertakings, continuing at present on a monthly basis.

Money to finance $3,000,000 worth of highway improvement work will be sought from the Dominion, as an addition to the normal road programme of $1,400,000.

In addition, it was intimated, Mr. Hart will discuss British Columbia's desire to refund a considerable portion of the net debt of the Province, exclusive of inscribed stock at London.

Last year the Province sought and obtained guarantees of $9,000,000 worth of assistance from Ottawa.

RELIEF OFFICE FACES PROBLEM

Chinese Applicants Swamp Bureau as Result of Activities of Strikers

The city's relief department is faced with a serious problem as a consequence of the strike of single men in relief camps, it was learned yesterday.

These men, it was stated, had reported at the relief office demanding allowances for Chinese. An investigation disclosed that their complaints were unjustified.

However, as a result of the activities of some of these men, and through the agency of a newly-formed organization, many Chinese, who had left the city to seek employment, have returned and are desiring to get back on the relief list.

Each application has been carefully examined and investigated, and few have been found to be in need of relief, it was stated. The Chinese still continue to come to the relief office, however, in increasing numbers.

There is a certain Scottish golf course where Sunday play is allowed, and where on one occasion an English player hired a caddy and stood waiting with him on a Sunday morning for his opponent to arrive.

The lovely morning caused the golfer to whistle cheerfully, but no sooner had he started than the caddy threw down the clubs, turned on his heel and walked off.

His employer called to him: "Hi, Macpherson, what's the matter?" "What's the matter?" repeated Macpherson, crimson with anger. "D'you expect me to carry for a man who whistles on the Sabbath?"

Mrs. J. Gray Was Bothered With Bladder Trouble

GABRIOLA, B.C., April 23 (Special).—"I have been a user of Dodd's Kidney Pills for many years, and they have helped me a lot," writes Mrs. J. Gray, a well-known resident of this place. "I was bothered with my bladder a great deal. Would take some Dodd's Kidney Pills and was soon all right again. I always keep them on hand in case I need them again. They are certainly a good medicine for anyone feeling out of tune. My mother is eighty-eight years old and she has taken them for some years for pains in her back, caused through kidney trouble. She takes a box or two and the pains all disappear. She is as well as can be today, and good for some years to come. Anyone needing medicine for kidney ailments cannot do better than to take Dodd's Kidney Pills." (Adv.)

An interesting snapshot made outside a voting booth in Danzig, on April 7, when balloting for the Free City Diet resulted in a setback for the Nazi cause. Teachers Appoint R. P. Steeves Head Of B.C. Federation FIVE hundred delegates to the British Columbia Teachers' Federation convention here yesterday morning elected R. P. Steeves president of the organization. He is principal of the General Gordon School at Vancouver.

William Morgan, of Vancouver Technical School, was chosen vice-president, and J. H. Creighton, of Point Grey Junior High School, trustee of the G. A. Ferguson memorial fund. Various school districts of the province, in September, will select an executive with twenty-five members. They, in turn, will appoint a secretary-treasurer.

WILL DISCUSS WAGE INCREASE

Special Meeting of City School Board to Consider Teachers' Request

For the purpose of considering the policy decided upon by the City Council with respect to civic salaries, which have been increased 3 per cent, effective May 1, the city school board will hold a special meeting at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

An application for partial restoration of salaries already has been made by the teachers, and the board will consider the application to decide whether it can grant a similar 3 per cent increase.

Such an increase would add approximately $10,000 to the school budget, which, together with the increase given to civic employees, would mean approximately $24,000 added to the city's entire budget.

The school board budget already has been closed, and presented to the City Council, but no difficulty is anticipated in making provision for the increase in salaries, as special provision could be made by the council to cover this sum.

It will be remembered that the teachers took a heavier cut than civic employees, and whether they will be given a greater restoration to make their salaries commensurate with those that come under City Council supervision, will be among the matters to be determined at this afternoon's meeting.

Invited guests include Premier and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Mayor and Mrs. David Leeming, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Connell, Mrs. G. M. Weir, W. C. Moresby, K.C., and Mrs. Moresby, Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Church, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Paul and Professor Ira Dillworth. Mrs. Weir will present sports awards. E. H. Lock will present the G. A. Ferguson Memorial Award.

Morning meetings to be held at the convention include those dealing with high school, junior high school, elementary school and home economics courses. From 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock there will be a general session.

Between 8 and 9:30 o'clock in the evening the Provincial Government will receive teachers in the reading room and rotunda of the Provincial Library, with Dr. S. J. Willis in charge. From 9:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. a convention supper, dance and bridge will be held at the Empress Hotel.

BODY FOUND IN LIFE PRESERVER

EVERETT, Wash., April 23 (AP).—Clad only in shorts and an expensive vest-type life preserver, the body of a man twenty-seven to thirty years old was taken from Puget Sound yesterday by the crew of the Indianapolis, Everett-Port Townsend Ferry.

The body was sighted off Port Flagger by Leroy Douglas, of Port Townsend, a passenger on the ferry. Coroner L. S. Challacombe said the body had been in the water less than thirty hours.

The man was five feet five and a half inches tall, weighed 160 pounds, was smooth shaven and had blue eyes and straight, black hair.

The coroner reported no marks indicative of foul play. Challacombe said the shorts bore an "H. R." laundry mark and the life preserver was of the Ta-Pa-Co Kapok type.

Aunt Priscilla, who had spent all her years in the Bostonian atmosphere, went to visit some relatives who lived in a nearby state. Shortly after the train pulled out of the station she noticed a slab of granite beside the track, which read: "In (lie from Boston). The lady, thinking it was a tombstone, read: 'I'm from Boston.' and added aloud: 'How very simple, and yet how sufficient.'"

Lord Baden-Powell Says Spirit of Fortitude Must Be Developed in Youth of Land—Work Must Be Expanded

CALGARY, April 23 (CP).—In a St. George's Day message to the Boy Scouts of the Empire, Lord Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the movement which today has a membership of 2,500,000 in forty-eight countries of the world, here tonight appealed for the youth of the land, many faced with poverty and with the prospect of not being able to find employment.

A spirit of fortitude must be developed, the Chief Scout declared in his address, and Scout and Girl Guide training and comradeship would prove a useful instrument.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY "A time of national emergency is upon us again, not one of war and bloodshed, but which, if less spectacular, is none the less momentous for the future of Canada. This is not fully recognized and we go on playing our hockey, etc., on thin ice," he added.

Canadian Scouts and Guides were playing their part, but more leaders were required for the extension of the good work.

"As an outcome of the present depression," Lord Baden-Powell said, "there is the risk of race deterioration and of political disturbances in the future. The dangers are visible to all thinking Canadians. They are avoidable if the remedies are applied in time. And now is the time."

APPEALS FOR LEADERS An appeal to the young sportsmen of the Dominion, and others willing to assume leadership in the movement, to mark His Majesty, King George's jubilee year by joining in the national work of the Scouts was made by the world leader.

CONTROVERSY IS TYING UP BOATS

Majority of Salmon Trollers in B.C. and Washington Refuse to Accept Buyers' Prices

SEATTLE, April 23 (AP).—As a result of the new controversy with buyers over prices, it was estimated nearly 200 salmon fishing craft were idle today in Seattle and Neah Bay, fishermen tying up vessels as fast as they reach port.

The difficulty is over a ruling of the buyers that 8 per cent for heads and 2 per cent for slime and ice would be deducted from weight of salmon purchased.

If the controversy is not settled, 6,000 fishermen and 4,000 vessels will be idle in Washington and British Columbia within the next few days, it is reported. A vote on the "strike" is being taken as fast as trollers reach port. Alaska fishermen are expected to join in the tie-up.

JOIN U.S. TROLLERS VANCOUVER, April 23 (CP).—British Columbia fishermen who troll for salmon off the West Coast of Vancouver Island have joined United States trollers in refusing to accept the ruling of Seattle buyers to deduct 8 per cent for heads and 2 per cent for slime and ice from the weight of salmon purchased, it was reported here tonight.

These fishermen, gathered from various British Columbia ports, sell their entire catches in Seattle. Their tie-up does not affect the provincial canning industry. Fishing for salmon for canning purposes will not start until about July 1.

Bookings also call for the movement of several million feet additional, officials said, but space is not immediately available.

MAID AWARDED WAGES TORONTO (CP).—"She served grapefruit on a doll's plate," said a male house owner, protesting payment of $5.88 to a woman, formerly a maid in his employ. But Judge Jackson, in Division Court, gave plaintiff judgment for the amount, which was for six days' wages.

CORBIN RIOT AIRED HERE

Men Advised to Submit to Arbitration Under Industrial Disputes Act

Corbin affairs were under review by the Provincial Government yesterday, with two versions of what had taken place at the colliery town on Wednesday morning last, when strikers and police clashed and a number of both were hurt.

A delegation, composed of Thomas Uphill, M.P.P.; Harvey Murphy, organizer of the Mine Workers' Union; Daniel Iwasiek and James Dorman, interviewed Premier Pattullo, Attorney-General Sloan and Hon. G. S. Pearson in the morning.

The delegation requested the Government to conduct an investigation into the Corbin clash, to permit union organizers and others to enter Corbin, to withdraw police from the area, and to postpone the trial of seventeen men arrested for assault as a result of the disturbance.

SUGGEST ARBITRATION The Government declined the investigation, and advised the men to apply for arbitration under the Federal Industrial Disputes Act.

The delegation left town, after stating that a report would be made to a joint labor body in Vancouver.

Harvey Murphy added that the strikers planned to hold mass meetings throughout the province, commencing at Cumberland, with a view to organizing a sympathetic strike. This statement was not supported by Mr. Uphill or by the balance of the delegation.

Premier Pattullo issued a statement in which he stated that if the strikers applied for arbitration under the Federal law, any award of such a tribunal would be enforced by the Province. Such a course, he pointed out, would lead to withdrawal of the police, on the scene to preserve law and order. The statement touched on Communist activities in the area in the following terms:

CITES PROPAGANDA "There is a great deal of Communist propaganda circulating in British Columbia at the present time, of a most insidious character, which the public at large perhaps does not fully appreciate. So far as the Provincial Government is concerned, it is proposed to oppose their activities, and to maintain law and order," the Premier's statement concluded.

Reports given out by the delegation en route to Victoria, and repeated here yesterday, alleging severity of police treatment in the clash of Wednesday last, were firmly denied at headquarters of the Provincial Police by Colonel J. H. McMullin. The police had given no provocation whatever, and had only been drawn into the affair when they sought to protect miners on the scene, who were attacked.

RUMOR LAID The Provincial authorities specifically set at rest a report that a tractor had been turned into the crowd of men and women picketing at the scene, and had knocked down several women.

Inspector MacDonald, in charge at the scene, reported that the tractor in question had been driven slowly along the highway in second gear, when its crew was rushed by the picketers. As far as the police are aware, no-one had been dragged by the tractor, unless they had voluntarily hung on to the machine. One woman had been crowded into the machine in the melee by the strikers and had received some bruises.

General charges that the police had bludgeoned defenceless women were flatly denied. No provocation was alleged.

Mother: "What on earth are you boys making such a row about? You've been playing at soldiers all the morning and have been as good as gold. What's the matter?"

Tommy: "Well, you see, we're playing at disarmament conference now."

General charges that the police had bludgeoned defenceless women were flatly denied. No provocation was alleged.

TO PLAY NOLO GAME TONIGHT

Tacoma Is First Outside Team to Come Here Apart From Fair Events

As the feature attraction of the horse show at the Willows, tonight, a team has come up from Tacoma to play nolo against a local team composed of D. B. Carley, W. McDermid, G. Edgelow and R. G. Shanks. This will be the first time that an outside team has come to Victoria to compete in any competition, other than the regular classes at the Fall Fair, and it is taken as an indication of the renewed interest that is being manifest in all branches of horseback riding.

Without doubt the new game of nolo is one of the fastest games played and is really "mounted lacrosse." All riding is done at a hard gallop and being played in a comparatively small space, the "ball" is always in play. Rules had to be devised to make play safer shortly after the game was originated two years ago, so that today the game is still very thrilling, both to watch and to play, yet is not slowed down by too much whistle blowing by the referee.

It will be interesting to see just how the local team will compare with their much more experienced competitors. Both Mr. Carley and Mr. Edgelow are experienced polo players and have had a season at nolo. Mr. McDermid and Mr. Shanks are newcomers to the game. However, the locals feel that they will give the Tacomalites a tussle and endeavor to keep the Mrs. J. M. Matthews Trophy in Victoria.

"How my Father raised a Family on $1 a Day"

A Real Life Experience as told by Mrs. F. A. C.

WHEN my father married he was just 24. His job brought him only 90c. a day. My parents first task was to set about buying a small home. Their next move was to take out Life Insurance. As time went on there were five children. My father's wage was eventually raised to one dollar out of which we had to clothe and feed our large family—and still pay the premium on Life Insurance.

For 20 years my father worked from 7 to 6 o'clock without a day off. Then he began to show the effects. Whenever he sat down he would fall asleep. By this time my two eldest brothers had good jobs in the city. They persuaded my father to sell his house and move to the coast. Although he found work, he was not suited to it and turned back to Western Canada after five years.

He bought land and set to work, content that at last he had found the life he longed for—land for his sons; a home and independence in time for his family. Then a sad thing happened. While putting in his first crop he was stricken with paralysis. His Insurance policy contained a disability feature. It was like a God-send as there was no money from the farm thus far. This Insurance money kept him comfortably provided for until he died four years later.

An early frost had ruined the crop. There was no ready money. It was a crisis and his insurance money "saved the day." All accounts were paid. We bought the adjoining quarter section, a snap for cash. The first crop replaced the money easily. The children were given a good education. Today my mother is well provided for in her home with three of her children. All this was due largely to the Life Insurance money my father had taken out when money was so scarce with us.

B.C. Coast Brigade Is Given Inspection by Major-General Ashton

Units Under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel M. Aubrey Kent Parade at Armories Here for Official Annual Review

UNDER the critical eye of Major-General E. C. Ashton, C.M.G., (Overseas War Service) Officer Commanding Military District No. 11, the various units that make up the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, were officially inspected at the Armories here last night.

Equally at home with an artillery brigade as with an infantry corps, Major-General Ashton, who organized and commanded the then Howitzer Battery in 1912, gave the 5th a thorough and rigid inspection that lasted nearly three hours. Every phase of artillery training was included in the syllabus and every branch was given the district officer's personal attention.

PARADE MOVEMENTS
Parade movements were carefully executed and officers in command of the various units were complimented at the conclusion of the inspection. The six units which form the brigade are the 58th Field Battery, the 12th Heavy Battery, the 55th Coast Defence, the 56th Coast Defence and the 2nd Anti-Aircraft Section and Headquarters Company.

Major-General Ashton's staff included Lieutenant-Colonel C. B. Russell, A.A. and Q.M.G.; Major W. H. Dobbie, officer commanding Royal Canadian Artillery, and Major R. O. G. Morton, senior staff officer. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the general took his place at the reviewing stand on the south side of the drill hall. The brigade, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Aubrey Kent, was drawn up in review order and the general salute was given. The brigade was then personally inspected, General Ashton showing a keen interest in those wearing overseas decorations and also in others whose exceptional neatness of dress attracted his attention. The band chose the old tune "Carolina Moon" and played it during the dress inspection. The brigade marched past the reviewing stand in battery column.

DRESS INSPECTION
The dress inspection completed, officers commanding batteries were told off to their respective commands and then followed a series of parade movements, the movement desired being conveyed to the officers by General Ashton. Those taking command of their batteries were Major R. E. A. Diespecker, big coast defence gun proved an (58th), Major B. R. Ker (12th),

LIEUT.-COL. M. AUBREY KENT

Major C. S. Gonnason, M.C. (55th), Major V. McKenna, M.C. (56th), Captain G. Paulin (2nd A.A.) and Captain H. R. Bray (H.Q.). The units were afterwards paraded under section commanders.

In view of the fact that units of artillery brigades are not over-strength, in numbers, the various movements carried out on the floor of the drill hall last night were considerably better than is usual at official inspections, indicating better training during the past season. The men presented a smart appearance and the entire inspection was somewhat above the average.

GUN PRACTICE
Following parade and drills the various batteries were assigned to their respective posts and field-gun practice was carried on, with range finding for fieldpieces and the six-inch coast defence gun, signalling and gun-loading practice. The signals used were both wig-wag and semaphore. Range finding for the were Major R. E. A. Diespecker, big coast defence gun proved an (58th), Major B. R. Ker (12th),

About 300 occupied the gallery during the inspection. Two presentations were made last night by General Ashton: Lance-Sergeant Lowther was presented with the long-service medal (medal for general proficiency), and Gunner Boyd was presented with the Lieutenant-Colonel W. G. Woodward Cup for tyros marksmanship. Both presentations were made in full view of the brigade. General Ashton complimented both recipients of the awards.

REJECTED PROPOSAL

Maritime Federation Decided Not to Foster Union Labor Party

SEATTLE, April 23 (AP). — The new Maritime Federation of the Pacific, with a voting strength in its own ranks alone of more than 110,000, tonight rejected a proposal that it foster a union labor party and enter actively into national politics. It was one of the fiercest battles of the convention.

The entire constitution was adopted tonight. Tomorrow the delegates from eight maritime unions will elect a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and four trustees, completing action in a convention that has created the largest organized labor movement of its type in the country.

SOPRANO MAKES CONCERT DEBUT

Miss Patricia Dier Heard by Large Audience — Miss Hazel McMahon Assists

Another charming voice, last night, was added to Victoria's rapidly-growing galaxy of concert artists when Miss Patricia Dier, soprano, made her debut before a large audience in the New Thought Hall. Joseph Hinton, of Vancouver, was the accompanist. Assisting her on the programme was Miss Hazel McMahon, an accomplished pianist, who received a splendid ovation.

Possessing a robust voice of exceptional warmth and tone, Miss Dier was heard to greatest advantage in her closing number, Handel's "Rejoice Greatly." This piece, like Ardit's "Il Bacio," and two Grieg numbers, "Autumn Song" and "Departed," were more suitable to her range and tone. In two or three of the numbers the artist's desire to embrace coloratura work was disclosed, but it was in the more robust selections that she excelled.

Her two Grieg numbers, extremely difficult of execution by virtue of the use of the Norse scale in the composer's construction of the music, were particularly well rendered. She bridged the difficult intervals with an assurance which bespoke careful training and a love of the music she had chosen.

FINE FLEXIBILITY
"Villanelle," by Del Acqua, containing as it does some beautiful florid passages, gave Miss Dier a splendid opportunity to reveal the flexibility of her voice, even more so than in Bishop's "Lo, Here the Gentle Lark," which is more suited to a coloratura soprano.

of the executive, no local body of teachers shall make representations to the Government or any member thereof, or bargain in any way with the Department of Education with respect to matters affecting the teaching profession or involving any change in educational policy.

The special committee for drawing up the draft bill consisted of J. R. Mitchell, past president of British Columbia Teachers' Federation; William Morgan, president of Provincial High School Teachers' section; J. H. Creighton, president of Junior High School section; R. P. Steeves, president of the federation; J. N. Burnett, president of Vancouver Principals' Association; and Harry Charlesworth, general secretary of the federation.

ASSOCIATION GRANTS

Provisions of the draft bill also state that the Department of Education shall deduct annually from the grant payable to each school board a sum equal to total membership fees for all teachers employed by such school board, and the total amount so deducted shall be paid over to the association. Each school board shall recover the amount of the deduction made under the above section for each teacher by deducting the proper sum from the first salary payable to each teacher after receipt of the grant from which such deduction was made.

In the form of a private bill, these demands will be presented to the Legislature at its next session. A similar bill was recently made law in Saskatchewan.

A resolution submitted by Abbotsford-Sumas Teachers' Association and Victoria and District Teachers' Association, that salaries be paid in twelve monthly instalments, instead of ten as at present, was voted down at the meeting.

East Kootenay District Council of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation resolution, urging establishment of a provincial salary scale, was referred back to the com-

LOCAL KIWANIS WIN GOLF MATCH

Defeat Vancouver Club in First Game of Annual Home-and-Home Series

Victoria Kiwanis Club golfers defeated the Vancouver club by a score of 8 1-2 points to 6, in the first game of the annual home-and-home series for possession of the Heath Nicholson Trophy. The match was played at the Royal Colwood Golf Links and was followed by a dinner meeting.

A delegation from Vancouver of thirteen Kiwanians, headed by President Fred Sturdee, and five members of the Nanaimo Kiwanis Club, in charge of President Charles Stockwell, were guests at the dinner. Speaking at dinner, Mr. Sturdee reviewed the work of the Kiwanis International in past years and outlined its present status. An informal programme was presented under the direction of A. V. King, in which members of the Victoria Gyro Club took part.

The second game in the golf match will take place in Vancouver later this year.

WILL REVISE CURRICULUM

Major H. B. King Tells Principals Plans of Education Department

H. E. Patterson, Vancouver, was elected president of the Principals' Association during a luncheon meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel at the second session of the nineteenth annual meeting of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. Dr. J. R. Sanderson, Vancouver, was appointed vice-president, and W. E. Wilson, Victoria, secretary-treasurer.

In an address on curriculum revision, Major H. B. King, technical adviser to the commission on educational finance, stated that this matter would proceed along entirely different lines than in the past.

"There are hundreds of teachers in British Columbia capable of developing teaching units to be adopted in a new curriculum. This would undoubtedly help to raise teachers to new educational levels," Major King asserted. He said that a reformed curriculum would require about three years' work before it reached the printed stage.

CLAIMS OVERLAPPING

"I do not think very much of the way the curriculum has been revised in the past," he stated. "There is an enormous amount of overlapping, particularly in health instruction and home economics. This leads to chaos and waste of money. We will also have to consider matriculation and other examinations, together with extensive administrative reorganization."

Major King closed by telling the principals that they would all have a chance of contributing their ideas on curriculum revision.

Fred Parfitt, Duncan, and Ivor Parfitt, Kitimat, contributed to the musical programme.

OTHER MEETINGS

During the afternoon meetings were held for teachers interested in classics, English, mathematics, modern languages, science, social studies, primary, intermediate and senior grade work, rural schools, home economics and shop practice. Twenty-five teachers in charge of H. O. English played golf at the Uplands Golf Club.

Fifteen other teachers went with Allison Campbell to bowl. Badminton and ping-pong games were canceled by Harry Dee because of lack of sufficient entries. A number of delegates who sought relief from the tedium of the deliberations went on sightseeing trips around the city and to Butchart's Gardens.

Quintuplets' Father Would Prefer to Have Babies Examined by His Own Doctors

CALLANDER, Ont., April 23 (CP). —Olivia Dionne said tonight he was not satisfied with the inspection of his quintuplet daughters by Dr. Alan Brown, internationally-known child specialist, because "that's not what the children were supposed to get." He said there was reason to believe the children were not in a serious condition, but thought the babies should be examined by doctors named by himself.

Dr. Brown, physician-in-chief to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, examined the babies early today, and pronounced them in excellent physical condition and recovering nicely from slight head colds. He praised Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe for his care of the infants.

Hon. J. L. Ralston Refuses Statement on Intentions Regarding Candidature

RETIREMENTS MAY BE ABOVE AVERAGE

OTTAWA, April 23 (CP).—Hon. J. L. Ralston, former Liberal Minister of National Defence, was non-committal tonight on reports he would not be a candidate in the forthcoming general elections. "I am not in a position to make a statement," Colonel Ralston, whose senior law partner died a week ago, replied when approached on the question.

Sitting on the House of Commons for Shelburne-Yarmouth since entering the King Government in 1921, he has been Opposition financial critic during the last five sessions.

Indications are that the number of members who will not defend their constituencies in the next general elections will total more than twenty-five—somewhat above the average number of retirements. Ottawa newspapers today mentioned among Conservative members from several of the provinces for elevation to the Upper House to fill some of the thirteen senatorial vacancies: Hon. George F. Jones (Royal), Thomas Bell (Saint John-Albert) or B. F. Smith (Carleton-Victoria); Colonel Thomas Cantley (Pictou) and H. B. Short (Digby-Annapolis); Postmaster-General Arthur Sauve; Hon. J. D. Chaplin (Lincoln) and Dr. Peter McGibbon (Muskoka-Ontario). R. K. Smith (Conservative, Cumberland), is mentioned for the post of deputy Minister of Marine.

LIKELY RETIREMENTS

Other likely retirements are listed by the Ottawa newspapers as follows: Hon. J. A. Macdonald (Conservative, Kings); W. G. Ernst (Conservative, Wentworth); Hon. Robert Rogers (Conservative, Winnipeg-South); Thomas Hay (Conservative, Springfield); J. H. Sutt (Conservative, Selkirk); Percy Davies (Conservative, Athabasca), and former Speaker George Black (Conservative, Yukon).

Mr. Ernst already has said he will retire owing to pressure of private affairs and Mr. Black was forced to resign the House speakership when his health failed.

DR. R. W. ROBSON GIVES RECITAL

Informal Talk Illustrated by

Selections by Representative Composers

A private organ recital, attended by a number of music-lovers of Victoria who are specifically interested in organ music, was held last evening in the Metropolitan United Church by Dr. R. Walker Robson, well-known English musician, who has been adjudicating at musical festivals throughout Canada, and who is now enjoying a rest here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Ten Mile Point.

Dr. Robson, and for an hour and a half the audience listened to a "fascinating" informal talk about organs, organ music and playing, and various composers whose work was illustrated by Dr. Robson on the organ.

DESCRIBES ORGAN

The speaker began his talk by giving a brief description of the organ itself, pointing out the mechanism and construction, and during the recital the pedal movement was visible to the audience, illustrating the actual foot work of the musician.

It was a fact, Dr. Robson said, that few people understand the mechanism of the organ. Its dignity was its great attraction, he continued, and its great drawback "its dead level of tone." He emphasized the necessity of having complete mastery of the instrument if one were to get full value from it.

He played representative compositions of six composers, the first, "Solemn Melody," by Walford Davis, followed by "Berceuse," a smooth-flowing tune, full of unusual harmonies, an "Elegie" and "Carillon," three compositions by the celebrated French composer, Louis Vierne.

Debussy was represented by Andante from the String Quartette, and Dr. Robson pointed out that a keen and alive imagination was essential in translating the work of this composer.

BACH SELECTION

The Toccata and Fugue in D Minor was chosen as a representative Bach composition, and Dr. Robson gave the highest possible praise to Bach as a composer of organ music. Its popularity has "no measure" was pointed out, the course of 300 years. "He is the only composer who has never had a setback, rather he has increased in popularity," Dr. Robson said, adding "Bach is above criticism." It was significant, he added, that children have an amazing grasp of Bach.

In "The Chant of May," by Jongens, the true spirit of the countryside was to be found, Dr. Robson pointed out. There was nothing forced in this work, and it was an example of the perfectly logical continuation of the present system of harmonic variety, the whole work being entirely pastoral.

As a finale, Dr. Robson played Dr. J. A. Macdonald's composition, "Dithyramb," which he described as the organist's "nightmare," on account of its complicated character.

In concluding the recital, Dr. Robson gave a magnificent rendition of the National Anthem.

NATIONAL BROADCAST DENIED BASKETBALL

John Baxter, mayor's secretary, was unsuccessful in his attempt to have the Canadian Radio Commission broadcast the Canadian basketball championship games over the national network. Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the commission, wired yesterday that programmes were prepared, two weeks in advance and that it was now impossible to make any change in the programme.

It was pointed out by Mr. Baxter that in hockey game broadcasts, programme space had been provided on very short notice. He considered that the basketball games here should have been broadcast by the commission owing to the nationwide interest that is being taken in them.

Smart Wedding of Much Interest in Province

Miss Barbara Hunting and Mr. Christopher Morrison Married in Vancouver on Easter Monday—Leave for Honeymoon in South

VANCOUVER, April 23 (CP).—A lovely Easter wedding was solemnized on Monday afternoon, at St. John's Anglican Church here, when Miss Barbara Hunting, only daughter of Mrs. G. F. Laing, Angus Drive, and the late W. Foster Hunting, became the bride of Mr. Christopher Macaulay Morrison, son of Hon. Chief Justice and Mrs. Aulay Morrison, Granville Street.

The bride, who is a popular member of the Junior League, attended King's Hall, Quebec, and Sacred Heart convent, while Mr. Morrison is a graduate of Ashbury School, Ottawa, and of Trinity College, University of Toronto, and of Brasenose College, Oxford. He is a member of the English Bar, was called by the Inner Temple, London, and is affiliated with Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The ceremony was fully choral and the marriage service was performed by Rev. W. T. Keeling.

LOVELY BRIDE

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. G. F. Laing. She was attired in an exquisite Agnes-Drecol model of lustrous satin in ivory white. The gown has a closely-molded bodice and a full-length skirt that continued at the back into a train of court length.

Her wedding veil of sheerest silk Brussels net, held in place by a coronet of French orange buds, was outlined with a gradually widening fringe and fell in folds to the end of the long train. Her short face veil was thrown back after the ceremony, and she carried an exquisite bouquet of gardenias and lily of the valley, tied with long streamers of ivory satin ribbon.

CHARMING BRIDESMAIDS

Miss Elizabeth Brooks, maid of honor, wore a gown of similar design and material in daffodil yellow, while the frocks of Miss Naomi McMullen and Miss Margaret Rose were of a beautiful natter blue. The bride's mother wore a French imported gown of reversible crepe satin of Bateau blue, while the groom's mother chose a handsome gown of black French crepe with an inset vest of hand-embroidered batiste and Valenciennes lace.

Mr. Armour Bull was groomsmen. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Laing, after which the bridal couple left for their wedding tour, which will be spent motoring to points south as far as the Mexican border. They will occupy their new home on West Thirty-Fifth Avenue on their return here.

LACK OF OXYGEN INTERFERES WITH CLEAR THINKING

At the Olympic Games held at Los Angeles there was considerable interest and active discussion about the methods of the Japanese athletes whose efforts were said to be reinforced by the use of oxygen.

There isn't any question, of course, that we all of us do better work if we are outdoors or in a well-ventilated room where we are getting a good supply of oxygen. If we are very tired the blood is likely to be a little short of oxygen; if we rest for a while, thus not using so much oxygen, the blood gradually gets back its usual amount of oxygen.

So also if we eat a great amount of food, a considerable portion of the oxygen of the blood is needed to burn up this food and so the blood and tissues will, for an hour or two anyway, be a little short of their usual amount of oxygen.

And now according to studies completed by Dr. Ernst Geilhorn and Irwin G. Spieman, of the University of Illinois, a slight decrease in the oxygen supply of the body, such as aviators experience, profoundly influences hearing, seeing, and the sense of balance.

"Persons who breathe air containing only half as much oxygen as exists in the ordinary air at sea level suffer so great a loss in the power of critical judgment that adults—usually intelligent ones, too—will argue whether four times four is sixteen, and will become most annoyed with one another because of their inability to agree. A professor in a university, under the influence of air deprived of some of its oxygen, insisted that four times four is twelve.

thus also an individual usually intelligent.

mild mannered and of gentle disposition may fly into a rage on the slightest provocation while under the influence of air deprived of some of its oxygen.

Two methods of administering this air with its lessened amount of oxygen are used. Some persons are taken into a room in which the oxygen of the air has been reduced; others breathe through a tube connected with a tank filled with "thin" air—air with less than the usual amount of oxygen. The effects of this thin air often continue as long as fifteen or twenty minutes.

If, then, you and I want to do some clear thinking, we should not try to do it in an unventilated room, nor should we try to do constructive work while tired or after a heavy meal.

Hudson's Bay Company Will Present Early Summer Fashions Immediately Before Each Session
—B.C. Electric Railway Co. Is Co-Operating —First Class Set for May 7

In conjunction with The Daily Colonist Cooking and Home Makers' School, to be held May 7, 9 and 10 at the Shrine Auditorium, comes another major announcement. Prior to each session of the school, the Hudson's Bay Company will present the latest in early summer dresses and styles, in addition to a display of vacation needs and tips for prospective travelers.

FOUR SESSIONS

The Daily Colonist Cooking and Home-Makers' School is directly sponsored by The Daily Colonist, with the co-operation of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Hudson's Bay Company. Under the direction of Miss Claire Andree, official lecturer from the famous DeBoth Home-Makers' School, there will be four sessions in all, one on Tuesday, May 7, at 2 p.m.; one on Thursday, May 9, at 2 p.m.; and two on Friday, May 10, at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m., respectively.

Miss Andree will combine in her lectures the latest recipes, direct from the test kitchens of the DeBoth Home-Makers' School, with practical demonstrations of the most efficient methods to employ in the preparation of foods. Every day there will be twenty-five market baskets given away, packed with nationally famous foodstuffs.

NEW RECIPES

This course is designed to give Victoria housewives an opportunity to share in a fascinating, instructive and entertaining series of lectures dealing with modern housekeeping, cooking, practical economy and efficiency in the home. At all times, Miss Andree keeps the novice in mind.

The lectures are so arranged as to give the same value to the woman with no cooking experience as to the practised housekeeper who is looking for new recipes to grace her menu.

The stage of the Shrine Auditorium will be fitted out as a modern kitchen, so arranged as to give every spectator a clear view of each part of the demonstration. Balanced diet, economy and conservation of effort, are bracketed with new and dainty recipes in a series of lectures delivered by an expert.

Noted Artist Will Exhibit In Vancouver

Art lovers of Victoria and Vancouver Island will be pleased to learn that A. C. Leighton, R.B.A., the well-known artist, will hold a one-man show of water colors at the Vancouver Art Gallery, May 7 to 15.

He is president of the Alberta Society of Artists and is one of the men who has contributed in making the West art conscious. He is well known here and abroad, his work hanging in many public galleries and private homes.

His water colors are noticeable for vigor of execution, brilliancy of washes, fine composition, superb draughtsmanship, the luminosity of his snow, and the sparkling crystal clear translucency of his stretches of water.

This artist is a consistent contributor to the Paris Salon, Royal Academy, London; Royal Canadian Academy, and the Royal Society of British Artists.

His studio is on the old Sarcee Trail in the foothills of the Rockies, and many of his best pictures have been painted in that neighborhood.

Mr. Leighton is a Great War veteran, and made a name for himself by painting the old windmills of Sussex to file away in the British Museum.

It is a free show and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Keating

Miss Alice Styan has returned to her home, Central Saanich Road, after spending two weeks visiting friends at Redwood, California.

Mrs. L. Hafer, Keating Cross Road, returned home on Monday after spending the Easter holidays visiting friends in Port Angeles.

Mr. Humphrey Butler, of Duncan, spent the holidays with his father, Mr. W. S. Butler, Keating Cross Road. He returned home on Monday.

Mr. Bert McKay, of Alberni, is spending a few days' holiday with his family at Keating.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Crossley and family, of Duncan, recently visited Mrs. Crossley's father, Mr. W. S. Butler.

"Mother," exclaimed little Jane, "they're going to teach us domestic science at school now."

"Do you mean domestic science," asked her mother.

"There is a bare hope," interrupted father, "that our little Jane means what she says."

Marriage Takes Place at Ganges

SALTSPRING ISLAND, April 23.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at 10 o'clock on Monday morning in St. Paul's Church, Ganges, when Mary Mona, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raffles A. Purdy, of Ganges, became the bride of Mr. Miller Dods, of Ganges.

Rev. C. H. Popham, vicar of the parish, officiated. Mrs. V. C. Best, at the organ, played the wedding music.

LOVELY DECORATIONS

The church was beautifully decorated for Easter, with daffodils, narcissi, primroses and foliage, the Spring flowers making an attractive setting for the ceremony, which was attended by a large number of friends.

The bride, who entered the church to the strains of Wagner's "Bridal March," was given in marriage by her father. She looked charming in her gown of white satin, cut on simple, straight lines, with flared floor-length skirt. The embroidered veil of silk net was held in place by a circlet of orange blossoms, and fell in soft folds forming a train. Shoes and gloves were of white kid, and she carried a shower bouquet of plum blossoms tied with long streamers of white satin ribbon.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Misses Margaret and Hilary Purdy, wearing frocks of silk crepe fashioned on similar lines, the former in shell pink with large picture hat to match, and the latter in pale blue with cream-colored hat. They carried bouquets of plum blossoms tied with satin ribbon, and wore white shoes and gloves.

Mrs. Purdy, the mother of the bride, was attired in a pale grey swaggar suit, with hat, shoes and gloves to match. There was no reception.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Dods left for Victoria, and Upland points, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride wore a swaggar suit of navy blue with hat to match, and white accessories. On their return they will take up residence in their new home at Ganges.

A man who stuttered went to a specialist and after ten difficult lessons learned to say quite distinctly "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers."

His friends congratulated him upon his splendid achievement.

"Yes," said the man doubtfully, "but it's such a d-deucedly d-d-difficult remark to w-w-w-work into an ordinary c-conversation, you know."

Miss Bertha Phillips, who teaches at North Bend, is spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Phillips, Royal Oak.

The evening was spent in games and dancing and later a buffet supper was served from a table centred by a decorated birthday cake. The invited guests included Misses Elaine Humphries, Nellie Rainer, Muriel Butt, Doris Minty, Myra Hodgson, Nancy Harper, Betty Austin, Ruby Swithern, Peggy Murphy, Sylvia Becker, Eleanor Caldwell, Elsie Fryatt, Vera Knowles, Messrs. City's Relief List Discloses Steady Decline—Allowance Cost Much Lower Another substantial decrease in the number of those on city relief was reported for the month of March, yesterday, by city relief office officials. Ever since 1933, the peak year of the depression, there has been a steady decline in the number on relief, as more and more men have become absorbed in the labor market.

Last month there were 959 families on city relief as compared with 998 in March of 1934, a decrease of thirty-three families. Compared with 1933, the peak year, last month's figures showed a decline of 171 families. Last month's figure is the same as that for May of last year, the late Spring months and Summer being the light periods for unemployment.

Cost of relief also has dropped materially. The cost last month was $500 less than for March of the previous year and $21,945 less than 1932, when unemployment reached rock bottom. Compared with 1933, the cost is $3,730 less. The amount paid out in allowances last month totaled $30,029.

Jane Dixon Says:

REQUEST FOR SMOKE CONTINUE TO POUR IN—SMOKE'S A DOG AND HE'S LOOKING FOR A HOME

What are we going to do about Smoke? Never did I suspect that in all parts of this land, so many worthwhile homes were needing an orphan puppy-dog.

Not a letter has come in but I wished I could send Smoke to the writer.

It's wonderful to find so many of you have kind hearts, and that you are willing to take in a dog who just happened to be out of luck. Here are some of the letters. I can't print them all. So I pick them out at random without looking at their contents.

OFFERS COUNTRY HOME

Dear Miss Dixon: I read about your wanting a home for the little dog in our paper this morning. I am very fond of dogs, and I would like to have him. I will assure you that he will get good treatment. I live in the country and I think that would be the best place for Smoke. I am anxious to get a friendly little dog, so I am hoping to get Smoke.—Your friend, Helen Brabham, Olar, South Carolina.

Dear Miss Dixon: I always read your column and enjoy it very much. I must say today's was quite different. Who wouldn't just love Smoke? I am a great lover of dogs, and if you have a good home for the dear little orphan, all right, otherwise I would like to have him, regardless of his family tree.

Wishing you success in placing Smoke in a good home, whether it is mine or another.—Sincerely, Dottie Boalt, Sumter, South Carolina.

SISTERS INTERESTED

Dear Miss Dixon: The Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, having seen your appeal in the paper for a reliable home for Smoke, have asked me to answer this request.

They guarantee a good reliable home, where this poor orphan can be well looked after and cared for.

Hoping to be the fortunate applicant and thanking you in return, I am, yours truly, A Student Nurse, St. Joseph's Hospital, Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, Canada.

OFFERS LARGE YARD NEAR THE WATER

Dear Miss Dixon: My sister and I read in our paper about Smoke, the puppy. We would like to have him very much, as all our family are fond of dogs. My sister is thirteen and I am eighteen, and we could give him a good home and plenty to eat, as we are the only children. We live by the water and have a large back and front yard with many trees, apple and maple, and lots of lilacs. We would be very kind to him. We have a small black cat and a canary. Hoping you will send Smoke to us, yours sincerely, Margaret Penny, Sydney, Nova Scotia, Canada.

OFFERS DOG, PONY AND GOAT AS COMPANIONS

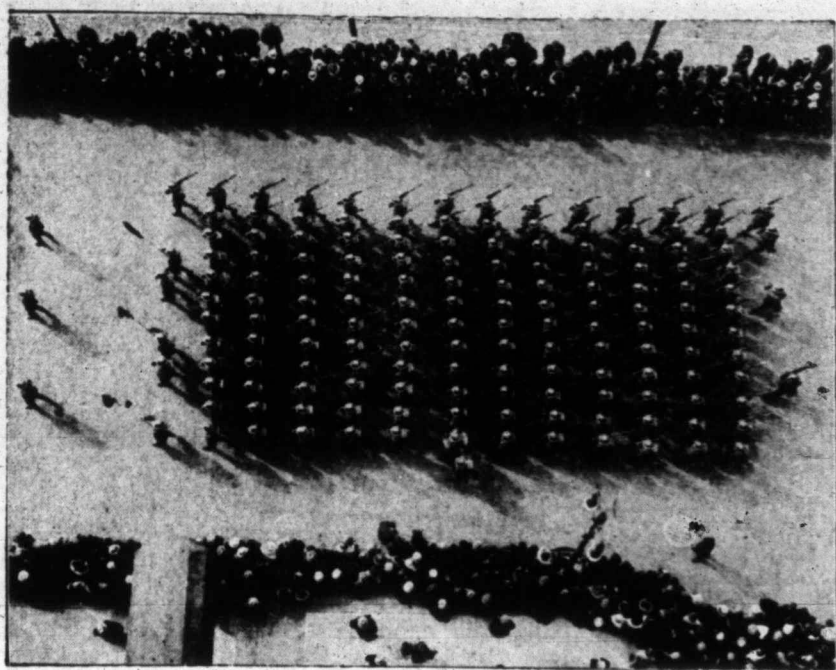

Dear Miss Jane Dixon: I am a little girl eight years old, in the third grade and the primary class in Sunday school. I was looking at the funnies in our paper and turned over the page and saw Jane Dixon Says. It was about the puppy, Smoke. I asked mother and father could I have him, please. Write back and tell me how much he costs and we will come to Columbia to meet him, if you will be so kind as to send him to me. I will give him a good home. I have a dog I named Wig-Wag, because that is what he does with his tail all the time. I have a pony, too, and a goat. He is black, so I call him Blackie. I want another dog, so please send me Smoke.—Love, Winnie White, Dabzell, South Carolina.

Dear Winnie: Smoke is not for sale. He's just our orphan pup in search of a home, and he's had so many fine offers I'm going to put them all in a hat and let him pick one himself. The first one he drags out of the hat is the lucky offer. Lucky for the kind friend of dogs and for Smoke, too, I'm sure.

The future address of Smoke will be printed in this column. When it is printed, I hope those of you who have offered him a home will write to his owner and congratulate him or her on good fortune.

INTENSE DRAMA AT THE CAPITOL

Clark Gable and Constance Bennett Co-Starring in Newspaper Film, "After Office Hours"

For intense drama few things can surpass the city room of a great metropolitan newspaper at press time. Well organized by dramatists, this fact has more recently been put to use by the scenarioists of "After Office Hours," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture co-starring Clark Gable and Constance Bennett, opening today at the Capitol Theatre.

Described in the script as an "enormous rectangular room, of the familiar newspaper room pattern, at the raised end of which, are the city editor and his two assistants busy at telephones," all the controlled excitement of reporters at work was evident when "shooting" began.

On either side of a long aisle was a jumble of desks. Men with hats on punched typewriter keys with their index fingers. From the "city desk" a blonde called shrilly for a copy boy.

Into this scene Director Robert Z. Leonard brought his camera and his co-stars—Gable to play the managing editor and Miss Bennett a reporter.

Newspapers, however, are only in-

DOMINION Eleanor Powell, the world's greatest girl tap dancer, was dancing at the Summer Casino at Monte Carlo, when she was offered a place among the stars of "George White's 1935 Scandals," the new Fox Film musical extravaganza now at the Dominion Theatre. Others in the cast of this picture, produced, conceived and directed by George White, are Alice Faye, James Dunn, Ned Sparks, Lydia Roberts, Cliff Edwards, Arline Judge, Emma Dunn, Benny Rubin and George White.

PLAYHOUSE "Kid Millions," Eddie Cantor's latest musical comedy, is showing at the Playhouse Theatre for the last times today. Ann Southern is seen in the leading role opposite Eddie Cantor. Ray Walker and Sally Blane are in the added attraction, "City Limits."

COLUMBIA Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell, two popular Hollywood stars, head the cast of "Dames," now at the Columbia Theatre. Guy Kibbee, Joan Blondell and Zasu Pitts are also in the cast. "Shock," a dramatic story starring Ralph Forbes, is the added attraction.

The league schedule will open on May 8, with two fixtures billed as follows:

Course of Proposed Pacific Air Service

Diagram illustrates the entire trans-Pacific air route of the Pan-American Airways' service linking California and China, with Shanghai as the probable Far Eastern main terminal. The total flying distance between Oakland, Cal., and the Asiatic Mainland is 8,682 miles. Flying bases are now being established on Wake and Midway Islands, and service depots are being constructed at Guam and Manila. The mighty Clipper ship successfully negotiated the flight from the California Mainland to Honolulu in 17 1/2 hours.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

Cheerful news for all local shoppers was received along wholesale row yesterday, when it was announced that produce prices had started a general downward trend. Wholesalers were busy unpacking some seventy tons of produce and fruit received here during the day.

Included in the large shipment was a car of oranges and grapefruit, celery, California carrots, new potatoes, green peas and bananas.

Local hothouse rhubarb was reported to be through, and the price of the outdoor grown product was down substantially to 7 cents per pound. Previously it sold at two pounds for 25 cents for first grade and 10 cents a pound for junior grades.

Cabbage, which had been giving shoppers somewhat of a nightmare on account of its high price, was down 2 1/2 cents a pound to 10 cents a pound, as against two pounds for 25 cents, the previous price. Cauliflower was down from 25 cents apiece to 10-15 cents each, according to size. Local white spine

RIBBONS WIN FIRST GAME OF CANADIAN SERIES

Wallace Retains Title In Battle With Jones

Referee Calls Bout a Draw When Two Judges Disagree—Second Meeting of Vancouver Fighters—Foston Is Kayoed

VANCOUVER, April 23 (CP).—Gordon Wallace, of Vancouver, tonight successfully defended his recently-acquired Canadian welterweight crown when the referee called his twelve-round bout with Sonny Jones, also of Vancouver, a draw after the two judges had disagreed.

It was the two Vancouver fighters' second meeting. Wallace was awarded a close decision over his dusky opponent several months ago before he won the crown in a title bout with Tommy Brand, of Toronto.

Wallace made Jones take the offensive through most of the fight, coming out with short two-handed bursts just often enough to keep up to him in points.

Both fighters were cautious in the first and the round looked even, neither fighter getting in any harmful blows. Wallace began to use his left in the second and held Jones off. The rounds looked even.

STAND TOE TO TOE

They both came in fast in the third and traded punches toe to toe in the centre of the ring. Wallace took this one and the fifth, connecting with some heavy blows to Sonny's body, while Sonny had the edge in the fourth, using both fists fast in close fighting.

Jones connected with a few good lefts to Gordie's body in the sixth to take this one, and came back strong in the next, but Wallace was too fast for him and took the round with a fast attack in the last half.

The eighth was slower, both fighters taking their time and fighting cautiously. Wallace opened up in the ninth and landed a number of lefts on Sonny's head and body.

The tenth was fast and looked even. Jones came in strong in the eleventh. Apparently trying for a knockout and took the round with his aggressiveness. He tried the same thing in the last round, but Wallace was too fast and most of Jones' blows missed their mark.

REGISTERS K.O.

In a preliminary bout, Al Ford, of Vancouver, won a technical knockout from Harry Miller, of Nanaimo, in the sixth round.

Miller went down in the first round and again in the fourth. Ford cut Harry just over the right eye in the fifth and the wound was bleeding badly. When the bell rang, ending the round, Miller's second threw him in the towel and would not let him go back for the last round.

Eddie Spina, of Portland, knocked out Alan Foston, of Vancouver, in the fifth round of the semi-final, a scheduled six-round bout. Spina knocked Foston down twice in the third and once in the fourth round, and finished the fight with a barrage of rights and lefts to the jaw in the fifth.

J. E. WILSON RE-ELECTED

Named President of Victoria Golf Club for Another Term—Reports Submitted

J. E. "Joe" Wilson, popular figure in local golfing circles, was yesterday evening re-elected president of the Victoria Golf Club at the annual meeting held at the clubhouse.

Annual reports and the financial statement were submitted to the meeting, and all told of the flourishing condition of the popular Oak Bay Club. The season just concluded was very successful in every way, and the members expressed considerable satisfaction for the capable and efficient way the various officials and committee members had carried out their duties.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

J. Harold Wilson was named club captain, and following were named members of the general committee: J. D. "Don" Campbell, H. J. Davis, A. H. Ford, W. H. M. Haldane, R. Peachey, G. M. Terry, E. D. Todd, A. M. Watson and W. B. Wilson.

R. C. Field was appointed club auditor.

The retiring officers and staff were thanked for their work during the past season.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Standing two goals apiece, penalty awarded North Ward, crowd rushes on field in frenzied excitement, Taylor, slightly nerve-shaken, misses the kick, whistle blows, disappointed players and spectators file from the field either mildly regretting that one or the other didn't win to settle the feud or strenuously arguing in an effort to convince each other that such and such a mistake cost one or the other the decision.

Briefly, that is the way the second soccer match between North Ward and Victoria West, which took place before a good crowd at the Oak Bay grounds yesterday afternoon, finished. To understand the situation clearly the foregoing synopsis requires elaboration. Remembering that the rivals are even and that play is about to conclude imagine a North Ward rush, the West full-backs outwitted, the ball shot in on Goalie Beane, who catches and hugging it closely to his bosom falls face downward in the goalmouth. That's what happened and the attacking Wards did the most natural thing in the world, although critics claim that, in so doing, they brought themselves within the scope of the regulations.

Too bad to hear that the interest the high school students at first evinced in baseball and lacrosse is gradually diminishing. If Victoria is to take a prominent part in athletics it is essential that the younger element should display a healthy concern in standard recreations.

MACCABEES TO PLAY SOLDIER ELEVEN TODAY

Wednesday Football League Teams Clash Today in Cup Soccer Match

Maccabees and Garrison, third and fourth ranking elevens in the Wednesday Football League, will hold the soccer spotlight this afternoon when they clash at the Royal Athletic Park in the first round of the Rennie & Taylor Cup series. The kick-off is set for 2:30 o'clock, with W. J. Cull handling the whistle.

The Penderay Cup final, bringing together Spencers, present holders, and the Hudson's Bay, leading contenders, has been postponed until May 6. The Diamond "S" boys have a number of players on the injured list and as a consequence the match has been postponed.

GARRISON HOLDS CUP

Garrison will be fighting in defence of the handsome Rennie & Taylor Cup when they battle the Maccabees. The Tommies won the trophy last year after a great series, and will be favored in some circles to retain the silverware.

Manager Charlie Lewis, boss of the Maccabees, will trot out his strongest eleven of the season for today's cup-tie fixture in hopes of turning back the smart Garrison eleven. The lodgemen made a good showing in the Penderay Cup series, and after being at the top for a few weeks, slipped in the drive down the home stretch.

The teams: Maccabees — Harris, Graves, Speller, Embrey, Fieldhouse, Chapman, McBride, D. Murray, Eastwood, J. Murray, Garnot, McLellan, Hill, A. McBride, D. Jack and Wilmhurst. Garrison — Featherstone, Wilkison, Miller, Dyer, Evans, Wallace, McAllister, Cook, Worswick, Edwards and S. Bishard.

Pate, who with Samuel Hardy won the United States veterans' doubles championship in 1924 and 1925, will lead a "freshman" team comprising Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, Ga.; Donald Budge, of Oakland, Calif.; and Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, into Mexico City, where the United States representatives will meet the Oriental players on May 10, 11 and 12 in the customary four singles and one doubles match.

ART CHAPMAN STARS AS LOCALS DEFEAT WINDSOR, 47 TO 22

Brilliant Tip-Off Ace Scores Twenty-Three Points as Victoria Cagers March to Great Victory in Dominion Playdowns—Second Fixture Carded Thursday Evening

Chuck Chapman turned in a great game. His intercepting, passes and generalship while the squad, was in action were outstanding highlights of the decisive victory. The rest of the boys worked in well with the Chapmans. This must be said, the score would have been much larger had not the Ribbons thrown several of their passes astray. These mistakes were caused through over-anxiety, but the boys really gave the fans plenty of thrills when they were clicking in championship order.

Assumption were baffled by the extreme speed and fast breaks of their opponents. The Ribbons' defensive work proved another problem for the collegians, which apparently they did not solve from beginning to end. Nearing the end of the game the visitors were completely disorganized as the Ribbons ran through them almost at will.

Alderman James Adam tossed up the first ball in the absence of Mayor David Leeming. He welcomed the college team on behalf of the city and hoped that the best would come through.

LOCALS OPEN SCORE

Art Chapman got the first tip-off, but the tea and coffee lads lost possession seconds later. Assumption tried to work through the local back division, but in vain. From a fast breakaway, Art Chapman raced down the side and slipped in a great one-hander. Rogin and Aitchinson missed with long attempts, and then Martin sneaked in under the Assumption hoop and pushed in a rebound off the back board.

"Toots" Meretsky came through with the visitors' opening field goal, caging from the side with a long shot, and then Rogin was fouled by Art Chapman when he was in the "bucket" and he converted to make it 4-3. Meretsky took a neat pass from Aitchinson, but missed with nobody near him, and then Art Chapman galloped down the side court and slipped in another beautiful one-hander.

Assumption swung back to the "bucket" play with Rogin on the spot, but it proved useless against the local rear division. Sherman hacked Chuck Chapman in close, but the latter missed. Art Chapman raced in and snatched in the rebound and the Ribbons took possession for the next few minutes and rained the Assumption hoop with shots, but failed to connect. Aitchinson broke away by himself with Peden in pursuit, but the College forward missed under the basket. After Peden had scored a one-hander, Assumption called time out, with thirteen minutes gone and the Ribbons leading 10-3.

Art Chapman fell into the "bucket" after play resumed and was pushed by Rogin. He missed the first attempt, but converted the next, and then Peden was knocked over by Des Jarlais and he scored from the strip. "Porky" Andrews worked through with Peden and Art Chapman and twisted another field goal, but from the next centre Sherman found the hoop from the side court and followed it with a long pivot shot. Aitchinson and Meretsky combined for the next Assumption basket, the former doing the scoring right under the twine.

Then Chuck Chapman bounced a long shot off the boards with three minutes remaining, to make it 16-9. Byrne went in the game for Aitchinson after this and, as the tussle

After the short rest the tea and coffee lads went to work and had Assumption on the run. Des Jarlais fouled Art Chapman and Aitchinson kicked on the call and the game was delayed for a few seconds. But before this happened, Martin had pushed back Art's rebound. After the argument was over and the foul shots missed, the Ribbons opened up a fast attack and threw in baskets at a terrific pace. Martin sunk a long one on Chuck Chapman's pass and Art went through again on Martin's fine toss, to put the locals well out in front.

With only three minutes left, Peden caught a rebound and scored right under the hoop, and then Art Chapman got the prettiest basket of the game, a great one-hander from near mid-court. The score then stood 45-20. Aitchinson, who was mighty mad at something or other by this time, tossed in Assumption's last field goal, but before the whistle sounded, Peden converted from the far corner. During the last few seconds the Ribbons were throwing the ball in great style, and the fans seemed to get quite a kick out of their exhibition. Of course the game was won by this time.

Coach Father McGee stated, after the game, that the Ribbons were the best squad they had come up against this season.

GIANTS NOSE OUT BRAVES BEFORE RECORD CROWD

Debut of Babe Ruth Draws Record Attendance but the Bambino Fails Dismally as Team Suffers 6-5 Defeat—Dodgers Take Lead—Red Sox Tounce New York Yankees

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP).—Despite the signal failure of Babe Ruth to find fresh inspiration in the old home town or contribute anything striking to the gala proceedings, the Boston Braves today carried the Giants through eleven hard-fought innings before yielding a 6-5 decision before the biggest crowd that has ever witnessed a National League opening in New York.

Fifty thousand fans, including 47,000 cash customers, nearly filled the Polo Grounds for the occasion. Obviously they were attracted more by the metropolitan debut of Ruth in National League uniform than by the homecoming of the Giants. They roared lustily for the Babe, hoping to see him celebrate his return to his favorite hitting grounds with old-time vigor, but the big fellow failed miserably to produce and was out of the game, all but forgotten, by the time Mel Ott lashed a single to right to score George Davis with the winning run and break up a tense overtime struggle in the gathering gloom.

Pirates Come Through
CINCINNATI, April 23 (AP).—Pittsburgh's Pirates put on all sail in the sixth today and broke down the Cincinnati Reds' defence to win, 4-3.

Byrd's second home run of the season, and the Reds' eleventh double play of the year, failed to stem the Pirate tide. Pittsburgh chalked up eight hits to Cincinnati's seven.

Dodgers Move Ahead
BROOKLYN, April 23 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers took undisputed possession of first place in the National League today as they opened their home season by defeating the Phillies, 12-5, before a crowd of 30,000.

Johnny Moore's third home run of the season, and Adolph Camilli's sixth in the second inning, put the Phillies out in front, but the Dodgers shelled Snipe Hansen and Joe Bowman to the showers in the fourth with a six-run attack and then collected four more in the sixth off a pair of rookies—Pezullo and Jorgens.

Paul Dean Wins
ST. LOUIS, April 23 (AP).—Paul Dean held the Chicago Cubs to seven hits today, while his world champion Cardinal teammates pounded out a 9-5 victory in their 1935 home debut before 10,000 fans.

Frankie Frisch's men got going early and drove French from the mound in the third inning with a four-run onslaught. Hartnett poled a home run in the fourth, scoring Demaree, but the Cardinals came back in their half of the frame to knock Joiner from the box and garner three more runs.

Demaree, Cub centre fielder, clouted the second Chicago four-base blow in the ninth.

American League
BOSTON, April 23 (AP).—The league-leading Boston Red Sox won their sixth game out of seven starts today as they turned the official opening of the American League season here into a triumphant homecoming by defeating the New York Yankees, 7-4.

A crowd of 20,000, including Gov. James M. Curley, of Massachusetts, saw the Sox pounce on four Yankee hurlers for ten timely hits, while Fred Ostermuller and Henry Johnson kept the New York bats well in check with nine safe blows, one of which was a home run by Frank Crosetti.

Opening the eighth, Harrington walked and then seven successive hits, capped by Spindel's long blow, followed before the Solons got a Seattle man out. Lawrence and Michael scored ahead of Spindel. Even Howard Craghead, Seattle pitcher, tripped and scored on an infield out during the inning.

The Sac's scored in the fifth on singles by Rosenberg and Steinbecker and Stroner's Texas League to right, and twice more in the sixth on Chapman's triple, Frederick's single, Rosenberg's walk and Steinbecker's single.

Big Crowd Attends
Playing before an estimated opening day crowd of 11,000 shouting baseball enthusiasts, the Portland baseball team fought off an eighth inning Oakland rally that netted three runs and eked out a one-run victory by a score of 9-8.

Security Prices Close Firmer at New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP).—The silver-mining shares and some rails and specialties seized the leadership in another active stock market session today.

Silver stocks, aided by the advance of 21-4c an ounce in the price of the bar metal, not far from the new official United States Treasury buying price of 71.1c an ounce, found plenty of takers at gains of fractions to 3 points or more.

Aggregate turnover was 1,226,080 shares.

Among the silvers Cerro de Pasco at 56, American Smelting at 40-8 and Silver King at 121-2 were each at new highs for a year or more, while United States Smelting was up nearly 3 points at 121-4, and Park Utah was fractionally better at 4.

Dome Mines was up more than a point at one time and finished a major fraction ahead at 41-5-8.

Other Canadian stocks gained fractionally. South Porio Rico Sugar was another to top its peak for the year with a gain of more than a point at 253-8. American Sugar bettered that advance to finish at 627-8, and good gains were scored by Great Western, Central Alameda and others.

The bond market ran into some profit taking but leaders met prompt support and ended higher.

Columbia Gas 5's advanced 1-1/2 to 873-4 and Montana Power re-advancing 3/4 point at 813-8.

The foreign department was irregular.

News of Mines

By Bate & Co., Ltd.

Pickie Crow—First ore was crushed and pressed at the 125-ton cyanide mill on April 12. Recovery is expected to be 97 per cent, with costs at $10 a ton and ore grade running high. Estimated profits are $550,000 to $600,000, or 20c per share.

Hovey Gold Mines—Indicating that adverse conditions which had temporarily affected production results had been finally overcome, the production report of Hovey Gold Mines, Ltd. for the first three months of 1935 made the best showing for any similar period since the second quarter of last year. In the three months under review the company treated 122,008 tons of ore and recovered bullion valued at $374,931, an average of $3.07 per ton. In the preceding quarter, 118,718 tons were milled and production was valued at $33,001, or $2.81 per ton. Operating costs for the three months are estimated at $1.85 per ton, indicating operating profit, before provision for depreciation, taxes and pre-operating development charges, of around $149,000.

Kirkland Lake—New ore is in sight for the Kirkland Lake Gold Mining Co. at a point approximately 1,000 feet east of the shaft where ore-making conditions have been encountered on the eighth, ninth and tenth levels. Tonnage being put through the mill is now running about 200 daily, in line with the management's present intention of stepping up gold production.

Central Patricia—Handling a total of eighty-five tons of ore per day, the mill at the Central Patricia Gold Mines property will shortly be stepped up to between 100 and 120 tons daily, shareholders were informed at the annual meeting held recently. The company has approximately two years' ore in sight at the present mill capacity, running .66 oz. to the ton, and there is a good chance of increasing ore reserves. Gross production since the commencement of operations from 16,000 tons of ore milled has amounted to $330,000, it is stated.

Lafayette—It is reported that diamond drill hole No. 3 is being put down 250 feet west of No. 2 at an angle of 45 degrees. The hole is stated to have reached a depth of 150 feet, with several sections of well-mineralized ore showing. It is intended to carry it to a depth of 300 feet.

San Antonio—San Antonio's mill tonnage has now reached an average of 300 tons daily (April 12 mill).

Interlisted Stocks Lead Price Upswing At Eastern Markets

MONTREAL, April 23 (CP).—The cautious attitude which has marked trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange for the past several weeks was continued today as the market reopened for activity for the first full-day session since Thursday.

Changes were equally distributed between gains and losses.

One or two specialties served to brighten an otherwise dull list.

Consolidated Smelters jumped 37-8 points to 143-1/2, while Canadian Hydro Electric preferred gained 21-2 at 43-1/2.

Bell Telephone was up 31-4 points at 127-3-4.

Bruck Silk rose 1-3 at 19 and Building Products 1-2 at 281-2.

Power issues were narrowly higher. Small gains were shown by C.P.R., Massey-Harris and McColl.

Frontenac, among others. Dominion Coal preferred lost 2 at 127 and Hollinger 45c at 17.00.

TORONTO, April 23 (CP).—Traders returned from the Easter holidays more bullish than otherwise regarding the near future of stocks and prices were given an upward tilt on a moderate volume of transactions on the Toronto industrial share section.

Buoyancy was chiefly apparent in the interlisted group, which reflected the progress of the rally on the New York board.

Thirty-eight issues closed higher and twenty-one lower on a trade of nearly 19,000 shares.

While the higher silver price gave Consolidated Smelters a lift of 3 points on heavy turnover, it failed to support Nickel, which in fact lost a small fraction.

Canadian Pacific was a late feature of the interlisted group, rising 3-8 on substantial trading, while C.P.R. advanced 5-8 on smaller volume.

Reports of Rain in Drought Areas Send Values Down at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, April 23 (CP).—Grains dropped on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today simultaneously with reports of much-needed rains in parts of the dry United States Southwest.

Wheat prices closed 1-1/2c lower. May at 88-1/2 and July 89-1/2, with corresponding declines in coarse grains futures. Weakness in outside markets was a bearish factor.

Chicago wheat futures broke sharply, closing with net losses of 3 1/4c. Liverpool reacted from early gains and closed 1-8d off, and Buenos Aires was down fractionally.

Coarse grains declined in sympathy with wheat, losses ranging from 3-4c to more than 2c. Rye was sold liberally, that commodity losing 2-1/2c. Cash grains were slow.

Trading in the October future for oats, barley, flax and rye will open tomorrow, following an announcement of the exchange council.

Spurt in World Price Brings Value Close to U.S. Government Rate

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP).—Bar silver in the world market sold for 69.875 cents an ounce today, an increase of 2.25 cents, which brought the quotation within 1.235 cents of the pegged United States Treasury figure of 71.11 cents for newly-mined domestic metal.

The latest development, anticipated in Wall Street, aroused interest in the next Treasury move expected to boost the domestic price again out of reach of the world price.

Until recently the Treasury paid 64.84 cents an ounce for silver mined in the United States, but when the world price eased within a fraction of the Treasury price, the Treasury offered 71.11 cents to American producers.

The world price started an immediate rise which was checked last week after reaching 68.5 cents. The jump today was one of the largest in recent months, exceeded only by the 2.75-cent increase April 12, the day after the latest Treasury price was announced.

The stock advanced on active trading in the market today on the support of the heavy bonus vote.

The company earned $4.07 per share in 1934 as compared with $3.21 in 1933. Estimated earnings in the first quarter of 1935, before depreciation, depletion and other adjustments, were $1.07 a share as compared with $1.27 in the year previous.

CLUB
Is it not strange that both the weapon and a group of people organized for a mutual purpose should be known by the same name
—club?

If it is strange, it is so only to the uninitiated. To those who dig into the history of these things, everything—or almost everything—is explainable.

We have club from the Icelandic klumba. The same cognate appears in the Danish klump and the English clump.

Originally, therefore, a club was a clump, a mass or a lump. By extension, this came to be applied to the business end of a wooden staff which tapered at the handle—such as a cudgel—making a facetiously wielded weapon.

With mankind's flair for metaphor, this idea was transferred to a group or mass of people, to persons lumped or clumped together for a common aim or ambition, who then became known as a club.

At a meeting of an urban district council, the clerk announced that he wanted a supply of ribbons for the typewriter.

Immediately a member protested against such extravagance.

"She is a very satisfactory girl," he said, "but I don't see why she should be provided with finery at the expense of the ratepayers."

At 10:30 p.m. the May Queen contestants will be presented to those attending the ball by Premier T. D. Patullo and Mayor David Leeming. Expected to Increase as Ball Date Approaches

Lillian Grant, representing Scotch Societies, again led the list of May Queen candidates when votes were counted yesterday. She had 13,000 ballots. Two were tied for second place, May Clarke, of the Eagles, and Helen Ockenden, of the Junior Musical Arts, having 12,000 votes each.

It is expected these totals will soar much higher by tomorrow night as it is planned to announce the first three leaders at the Pre-View Ball to be held at the Empress Hotel and candidates are now rounding up all available votes in an effort to have the honor of being first on that occasion.

The standing yesterday was as follows:
Lillian Grant, Scotch Societies, 13,000.

The Beautiful Derelict

CHAPTER XXI

"You spent a Summer in the Malay Archipelago many years ago. You remember?" said the young man.

"Of course, I was there on a cruise," replied Dan Wayne. "We visited many of the islands."

"How long ago was this, Mr. Wayne?"

"How long, Pat?" Dan returned to his brother.

"Nearly thirty years ago. About twenty-eight years."

"That's right," said the young man. "And you, sir," his eyes fastened themselves on Dan, "you fancied the Liu-kiu islands, and stayed there a long while because of the charms of Avatcha, one of the beautiful native girls."

Dan Wayne had forgotten the others present; he had eyes and ears only for that lad, that strange yet familiar being who looked at him with Barry's eyes.

"Go on," he said in a low voice. "Go on."

But if Dan Wayne was enthralled at what he was hearing, Pat was even more so. He watched the man who looked like Barry, he glanced back and forth from his face to that of his brother. It was as if he were hearing a strange story that he could not believe.

Vera, who sat beside Pat, listened avidly. She couldn't quite grasp the meaning of it all, but she sensed a great excitement.

Steve Holt showed no deep interest, but as a matter of fact, he was very much interested, and wished Jane were not in the room.

Jane herself was idly thinking of the possibilities of a flirtation with this romantic foreigner.

He was tall and lithe, graceful in all his movements, and with no sign of embarrassment or self-consciousness.

He was speaking again. "Yes," he said to Dan, "Avatcha, a maid of the tropics, charmed you. Avatcha was a good girl. So, Mr. Wayne, you two were married by a traveling missionary, and lived together much of the Summer as man and wife. I am your son, born of that union, and I am here to claim recognition and acknowledgment."

"Tell me of yourself," said Dan. "You have education—manners—"

"Yes, my mother brought me up with carefulness. I have had schooling. I speak English—as you see."

"I do see. Why are you named Sam?"

"My name is not Sam, as you know Sam. My mother named me Samfari, which in our language is The Morning Star. That was her fancy."

"And Wing?"

Samfari looked troubled. "That is a mistake," he said. "I came here to look for you. But my mother gave me no written name. She said, 'Just before she died, 'Give Samfari over to Mr. Wing.' She meant Wayne, you see, but no one knew. I came here to seek for you and I have found you, my father. Is it not so?"

"I cannot say, lad. Your story may be true, partly true, or not true at all. But this I will do: I invite you to spend the night here, and the morning will bring counsel. Go now, you will be attended."

Dan touched a button, and Kiah appeared. "This is Mr. Wing, Kiah," Dan said. "He is my guest for a time. Put him in Mr. Barry's room, and see to it that he is provided with everything he may need."

"Good night, sir," said Samfari. "Good night all," and bowing gracefully, he left the room.

Then, rising, Dan said, "I am not ready to discuss this matter with you all. I will ask Pat and Mr. Stone to come with me. We will say good night to you ladies, and to you, Steve."

Pat followed his brother, and Stone, though wistfully looking back at Vera as if wanting her to follow him. Dan took them to his sitting-room. He was fairly quivering with excitement.

When they were seated, Pat said the first word.

"Dan, is all this a true bill?"

"You ought to know, Pat; you were there with me."

"But I wasn't with you all the time, Dan. In the Summer, you know, it was so warm you settled down at that beautiful little place in the inner harbor of Nephia-kuang, and I went back and forth cruising when and where my fancy led me. It was an ideal country, Mr. Stone."

"Oh, it was," and Dan's enthusiasm broke loose. "The water there is very shallow, and we could drift lazily over the clear, still surface and see below us the beauties of coral land—colored, soft-toned coral. Then, suddenly, you left the water for a large, luxuriantly wooded island. Then you were in an Eden, a real Paradise."

"You are thinking of the night of the sunset dance," said Pat, now turning reminiscent himself. "That is a sort of festal religious ceremonial, performed when the sun drops below the horizon. Standing on the highest summit, facing the west, the figures are seen in a golden framed silhouette, waving their arms and dancing an adieu to the day."

"Musicians play on their weird, snake-skin guitars, and singers chant the strange but not unpleasant discords of Liu-kiun songs."

"Errie," said Dan. "We float along, half unconscious under the spell of the strange music."

For a moment the brothers seemed to forget all else in their memories of the Orient.

"And now," Pat began, but in a tone of personal interest rather than critical comment, "who or why or which or what is our young adventurer, Samfari?"

"I am under the impression," and now Dan spoke a bit diffidently, "that he may be my son, but not a son of Avatcha. She was a beautiful girl. I saw her only a few times. You knew her, Pat?"

"Slightly."

Stone smiled. Dan gave himself a shake like a big dog settling down, and said to the detective, "Here's where you come in, Mr. Stone. Can't you find out for me whether this young man is really my son, and if not, whether he is of good antecedents. For, in that case, I have a notion to adopt him."

"What?" cried a very amazed Pat, and Fleming Stone looked at him with equal surprise. "Adopt him?"

Pat went on. "Dan, are you crazy? What do you mean?"

"I'm not crazy at all, and I mean just this. Neither of you men know how hard I am taking Barry's death. Even if Mr. Stone concludes his quest and finds out the truth about the murder, that won't give me my boy back to me. I loved Barry beyond words, and now each day becomes harder to bear because of his absence. If, therefore, this is my son—though I never went through any silly ceremony before a father and son—I want to adopt him, and I want to adopt him, legally and absolutely, so that in the eyes of the law he will be my actual son. If he is really that, so much the better. But here's the point, Mr. Stone. What I do not want is to stir up a lot of women down there in the tropics, who will each claim to be his mother. I know the greed and rapacity of those women. If adopting this chap, and mind you, I don't propose to do it without giving him a lengthy trial, means some Liu-kiun female rushing up here and claiming Samfari's maternity, the deal is off, and away with Samfari!"

"He said his mother was dead," reminded Stone.

"That's nothing. She may be round the corner of the house now, listening to us."

"You're asking me, I gather, Mr. Dan, to trace the antecedents of this Wing chap for you. Hasn't it struck you that I'm already on a job for you? I can't do the murder investigation and the quest of antecedents at one and the same time. Which will you have first?"

"The finding of the murderer," said Dan quickly. "That must be done to avenge my boy, my real son, Barry. Then if I take over Samfari, and I am more and more inclined to do that, that will be a separate and quite different affair. But the murder quest first—oh, yes, by all means, the murder quest first."

"Very well," said Stone, "and what about your young guest in the meantime?"

"I shall keep him here on approval," said Dan, very seriously. "Perhaps he will not want to be adopted."

"You go slow on that adoption business," said Pat, looking anxious. "This isn't like you, Dan, to fly off the handle."

"Oh, I haven't flown off the handle. To tell the truth, Pat, I thought you'd fall in with my plan. We both loved Barry, and here is a second Barry, ready made for us. However, I shall consider well before making any decision. You can't doubt the chap is my son, he looks so like Barry, and except for that Oriental touch about his eyes and brow, and his dark skin, he does not look like a foreigner. But he must wait—wait for Mr. Stone's further disclosures, and wait until I give him a fair trial in my home."

"I think you're planning right, Dan," his brother said. "I only want to warn you against undue haste, which I have never seen you show before. But if you wait a time before deciding, you will make no mistake, of that I am sure. And if you adopt the lad, I shall know that you feel he is your own, and I shall certainly raise no objection. He can never take Barry's place in my heart, nor in yours, either—I know that. But he can be a substitute, and we may learn to love him."

"Has it occurred to either of you," Stone asked, "that there may be some connection between your son's death and Mr. Wing's presence here? You know he was here before Barry died, and I have heard more or less mention of a foreigner who asked questions about the Waynes."

"Yes, I thought about that," Pat said, "but Samfari doesn't seem to me to be a wrongdoer. I admit I am judging him on a very short acquaintance. Why did you put him in Barry's room, Dan?"

"To get his reactions. Unless he has enough innate gentility to live up to our standards, I'm not sure I want him around. I shall, of course, provide for him, but I need not have him here unless I choose."

"That's right," and Pat nodded at his brother. "Make up your mind carefully and don't rush matters. I'll stand by any decision you may make, but I think it over well first."

"I certainly shall, old boy," and Dan gave him an affectionate smile. "We've never had a serious disagreement yet, and I don't believe we ever will."

"There's this little room for further discussion to-night," Stone said. "Do you two mind if I talk to young Wing alone? Would you rather I shouldn't?"

"Oh, certainly," said Dan. I want

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

LOW CARD SIGNIFICANCE
Listening to bridge players discussing hands, one might be led to believe that such cards lower than the ten-spot did not exist. Reverence is paid to aces, kings, and love to the queens. Even the scamps known as jacks hold key positions in the post-mortem discussions. Occasionally the eight and nine spots may come in for an honorable mention, but cards of lower rank seem to be forgotten. Alas, poor deuce!

FINESSE LOW CARDS
Great attention must be paid to low cards when a difficult hand is being played. Declarer's failure to finesse a seven-spot caused the loss of a game in today's hand.

West opened the singleton ten of clubs, dummy played the jack. East the king, and declarer the ace. A small diamond was led to the jack.
West failing to take with his king,
and the seven of clubs was returned.
East and South played low and West ruffed. A heart return was ruffed by declarer and the king and ace of trumps were cashed. The ace of diamonds was laid down, followed by a low diamond, which was won by West's ten. A heart return forced declarer to trump again.

At this point declarer's position was hopeless. West was bound to get in twice—once with the king of diamonds and once with the master trump—and South had only one trump left to stop the heart suit.
He led the ace of clubs and failed to make the contract.

Declarer should place the ten of diamonds in the West hand on the bidding and finesse the seven of diamonds at trick two. Since this prevents the loss of more than one diamond trick, declarer will have just enough time to establish the diamonds without having his trumps exhausted by repeated heart leads.

The turtle is an example of how useless streamlines are without a good engine.
